diate establishment of reforms long recommended by Don Maura in the Spanish courts.

Still another revolt manifested itself in Joguey Grande. The insurgents immediately raised the cry of Cuban liberty. Their success was of short duration, for they were met by a detail of government troops and defeated. They retired in Cienaga de Zepata, where it is very difficult, if not impossible, to follow them. This band is headed by the schoolmaster of Joguey, accompanied by his seven sons. In the eastern part of the island there is another outbreak that seems to' be of more serious character, as the government has sent from Havana a batialion of troops belonging to the regiment of Isabel la Cottoloca, under the command of Co. Fidel Santoilldes, to subdue it. Another party of revolutionists has been discovered at Marroro, near Colon. In Guantonoma there is another uprising.

The last revolt reported is in Selba Mocha, and was headed by the famous bandit, Manuel Garcia. He proposed to plunder in the name of freedom. But one day his party murdered a mulatto named Josa Lopez. The report of the gun which killed Lopez frightened Garcia's horse, and he dashed away. When he was returning the whole party met him with a volley. He fell from his horse desperately wounded. He was placed on another horse to be taken to Seboretcal, but he died in the woods. There he was discovered Monday and taken to Lamocha and burled there. Everybody thought at the time that the body was that of Juan Sassa, another bandit.

The body was exhumed February 26 and recognized as that of Garcia. A photograph of the dead bandit was taken.

Mrs. Vanderbilt came at the close of the vachting trip on the Valiant last summer during which it is alleged Mrs. Vander offit was subjected to indignities in the nce of their friends that made it im possible to longer defer action. It is all leged that Vanderbilt's relations with Mile leged that Vanderbilt's relations with Mile. Neutretter were openly paraded by him with the purpose of forcing his wife to take cognizance of them. Vanderbilt's friends assert that prior to this yachting trip his behavior toward Mrs. Vanderbilt's friends assert that prior to this yachting trip his behavior toward Mrs. Vanderbilt's had always been considerate and that he conducted himself in an exemplary manner. They assert he had no affection for Mile. Neutretter and was in no sense fascinated by her. Though the fact had been known, for some months that the Vanderbilts were agreed upon a general proposition of divorce, it was not known by the public until the decree was granted today that proceedings had been begun. Vanderbilt met Miss Smith, who afterward became his wife, in 1875 when he was 29 years of age.

TEXT OF THE DECREE. Judge Barrett's order granting the de ree reads as follows:
"This action having been brought by plaintiff against the defendant for the pur pose of obtaining a judgment of divorce and dissolving the marriage contract, on the grounds of defendant's adultery, and the summons and copy of the complaint having been duly served on the defendant in person within the State of New York on the 3d day of January, 1895, as appears by the affidavit of William K. Keogh, duly filed, and the defendant having appeared here in the person of his attorneys and having duly served on the plaintiff's attor-neys an answer to the said complaint herein, and nutting in issue the allega tions of adultery, therein contained, and ar order having been duly entered in this section whereby it was referred to Edmund Kelly, Esq., counselor at law, as sole referee to hear and determine the issues, and referee having made his report thereon proceedings taken before him, by which report it appears and said referee finds and decides among other things that the this action are true, and that the parties material allegations of the complainant in plaintiff and defendant, were married in the city and State of New York on the 20th of April, 1875, and were residents of the State of New York at the time of the marriage and at the time of the commencement of this action, and that the de fendant had been guilty of the acts of adultery, as charged in the complaint, as the said report found; and as the plain-tiff is a proper person to have the care and custody of the children of the marriage, namely Consuela Vanderbilt, Will-tam K. Vanderbilt, Jr., and Harold S. Vanderbilt; that the defendant is a man of con-siderable means and able to provide for his wife and family, and that the plaintiff is entitled to suitable provision for the support of herself and for the education and maintenance of said children; and the said referee having directed that judgment be entered in this action, in favor of the plaintiff and discrete. action in favor of the plaintiff and dis-solving the marriage between the parties hereto, awarding the care and custody of the said children to the plaintiff, and tha the defendant make suitable provision for the support of the plaintiff and main-tenance and education of the children; and the said action having come on to be and the said action naving come on to be heard on the 5th day of February, 1895, and the said report, together with the testimony and other proceedings taken before the said referee, duly certified by him, having been presented to this court for consideration, and his application having been duly made to this court upon the said report and all the proceedings herein for final adjustment for the plain-tiff and for such further order of relief friends were making efforts to patch up the difficulties between Mr. and Mrs. Vanderbilt and to avoid the scandal of divorce proceedings. Several councils of the Vanderbilt family were held and it was believed on account of the children, a simple separation would be arranged. Justice Barrett's decision gives the first news of the actual condition of affairs, and more than the color paper in the case that is as the court may decide proper; and, as an order having been duly made and entered in this action on the date aforesaid, the court was satisfied that plaintiff is entitled to a final judgment of dissolution of marriage between the plaintiff and defendan and awarding the care of the children during their respective minorities. over is the only paper in the case that is an order having been duly made and entered in this action on the date aforesaid, the court was satisfied that plaintiff is entitled to a final judgment of dissolution of marriage between the plaintiff and defendan and awarding the care of the children. during their respective minorities, to the plaintiff, and requiring the defendant to provide for the suitable phantiff, and requiring the defendant to provide for the suitable phantiff, and it is no motion of the corespondent's name in the decree, it is supposed that Nuestranance and education of the sail children, and for the support of the plaintiff, as justice required, and directing the parties herein to attend before this court at a special term thereof, to be held at the County Courthouse, in the City of New York, on the 21st day of February, 1895. and then and there present their proofs as to the proper amount of such Vanderbilt as set forth in the complaint vanderoit as set forth in the complaint were proven, and that Vanderbilt had been guilty of the acts of adultery alleged. He recommended, therefore, a decree absolute in favor of Mrs. Vanderbilt with absolute custody of the children, and that Vanderbilt should make strigable provision for them and for Mrs. Vanderbilt vanderbilt was then calered to a clearly to the child vanderbilt was then calered to a clearly to the child vanderbilt was then calered to a clearly to the child vanderbilt was then calered to a clearly to the child vanderbilt was then calered to a clearly to the child vanderbilt was then calered to the child vanderbilt was then calered to the child was the calered to the children to the chil novision to be required by judgment to be entered herein, to be made by the de-ferdant for the maintenance and educa-tion of said children, and for the support of plaintiff; and the hearing upon said order having been attended before the court at a special term therof, in chedibilt. Vanderbilt was then ordered to ap-pear before the court February 11 and give evidence as to the proper amount of provision he should make for the wife and ence to said order, and that he, then and there, tendered the plaintiff a written instrument under his seal and hand, and bearing date 18th of February, 1895, makchildren. That hearing was postponed un-til today, and Vanderbilt was absent, but was represented by counsel who sub-mitted a written instrument, executed on ing suitable provision for the education and maintenance of said children and for the suport of the plain-tiff, which tender of said instrument February 19, making a tender of what Vanderbilt was willing to give to his wife and children for their maintenance. This matter had been arranged between

Mr. and Mrs. Vanderbilt and the an of the provision is not mentioned in the decree. One story is that the amount agreed upon is $3,000,000 and, in addition, other provisions for the education and maintenance of said children, and for the support of said children, and for the support of plaintiff, who thereupon waived and relinquished all her right and claim she is to have possession of the big mar-ble town house on Fifth avenue and the elegant villa at Newport. On the findings of the referee Justice Barrett granted the to have any such provision required to be made by this court herein, and due deliberation having been had; now, upon the reading and filing of said report of the said decree and the said testimony and other proceedings had before the referce, lecree, which states that Alva E. Vander bilt may lawfully marry again during the life of Vanderbilt as if he were actually dead, but that it will not be lawful for Vanderbilt to marry again until the death of the plaintiff in this action. The practical effect of this prohibition is that Vanlerbilt cannot marry in the State of New York, but may marry elsewhere. "As a matter of fact," said a friend of Vander-bilt, "I know he, for certain reasons, has the complaint and answer in this action, after hearing Joseph H. Choate, Esq., William Jay, Esq., and William Dubeen unhappy in his marriage relations and has been anxious to have this case pushed from the beginning. It was the only course open to him and his open reress, Esy., of counsel in behalf of plaintiff, and Henry H. Anderson, insel thereof for the defendant, and on ations with a well-known woman motion of Deyo, Duey and Beaudorff, at-torneys, it is ordered, adjudged and de-Paris were maintained for the purp bringing this thing to an issue. Mrs. Van-derbilt owns in her own name the marble creed by this court, by virtue of the power and authority in it vested, and it doth hereby order, adjudge and decree that the said report of said referee be, and the house and 'The Cliffs' at Newport and she has other property given to her be her husband, who has agreed to pay he same is hereby in all respects ratified, approved and confirmed.

"And it is further adjudged and decreed $250,000 a year until her death. That be hers absolutely, and if she marrie again she will not forfeit it. There ar by this court, by virtue of the power and some circumstances in this case that are known to only Vanderbilt's friends, and authority in it vested, and it doth hereby adjudge and decree that the plaintiff, Alva they are ready to stand by him." E. Vanderbilt, and the defendant, William

When the cruise of Mr. Vanderbilt's yacht Valiant, which left New York with a party of Vanderbilt's friends on board er 23, 1893, was unexpectedly cu short, fashionable society at or the domestic affairs of Mr. and Mrs. Van-derbilt. The Valiant's party was made up of Mr. and Mrs. Vanderbilt, Miss Consuela Vanderbiit, Master Harry Vanderbiit, Mrs. Rutherford, Winthrop Rutherford, Oliver Perry Belmont, Frederick Beach, J. Louis Webb and Dr. Edward Keyes. rangements were made for a ten months cruise. After four months' cruise the yacht returned from the Eastern and at Nice the party broke up. People thought this strange, but it is doubtful if anybody not of the party knew why the

Since the day of landing, except for a week immediately following in Paris Vanderbilt has lived apart from his wife Mrs. Vanderbilt went to Danesville House, her fine seat on the Thames near Hen-ley, which was rented by Vanderbilt. Vanderbilt remained in Paris. Last s was very conspicuous there and French papers contained frequent hints that the young American millionaire was having good time. Vanderbilt's frier that when the whole truth was known he would be vindicated. This "whole truth," however, has taken no more tangible hape than rumors.

Mrs. Vanderbit, at her country place cross the channel, was regularly informed of Vanderbilt's movements in Paris, and in fact, he made no effort at concealment She took the advice of some Londor friends and her lawyers got into communication with Vanderbilt's lawyers
After a deal of offering and rejecting of plans it was finally announced that for the sake of the children merely a separa-tion had been arranged.

It was about this time that the name of Nellie Neustretter began to be linked with that of Vanderbilt. She was known equally well in London and Paris. She is buxom, good looking woman, apparently 30 years old, with dashing mann speaks English with fluency, and she was known to Americans who frequented the Grand Hotel in Paris and the Cafe Ameri can for occasional late suppers. She is the woman who, it is said, is named as coent in the divorce proceedings. Mrs. Vanderbilt returned to New York September 28 last, and went to Newport where a family conclave was held. Sev eral days later there was another family conference in Boston and another attemp made to prevent Mrs. Vanderbilt from bringing divorce proceedings. Mrs. Vanderbilt would listen to no attempts from her husband's family. Vanderbilt returned to New York on the Teutonic December 12, and it was reported he had returned to effect a reconciliation. He remained at to enect a reconcliation. He remained at his mother's house for a few days, and during the holidays he went to Newport, where his wife was living. He drove to his wife's house and took the children out driving, but he did not meet his wife. Soon after that he went to the Adirondacks, and in the middle of January he returned to England where he is supposed to be soon.

England, where he is supposed to be now. Before his departure the divorce suit was well under way. Now that it has been settled, it was stated today that Mrs. Vanderbilt will also go abroad next week.

W. K. Vanderbilt was the second son of William H. Vanderbilt, and his wealth is estimated at $80,000,000: His divorced wife was Alva E. Smith, a hardsome Southern girl whom he married in 1875.

Nellie Neustretter, the woman who furnished the material for Mrs. Vanderbilt's divorce, was never in California. New York reporters mixed her with Nettie Neustadter, a good-looking German cour-tesan who used to flourish in San Fran-cisco and Los Angeles. Nettie went to New cisco and Los Angeles. Nettie went to New York and then to London and Paris, but she had no style, and she wasn't chic enough to captivate a man of Vanderbiit's luxurious tastes. The Neusrantan and foolish; that M. Bourget attempted and foolish; luxurious tastes. The Neustretter woman is of German birth but she is said to be one of the most dashing of Paris courtesans. The story that Vanderbilt allowed her to put his livery on her coachman and footman grew out of the fact of the singular resemblance between the livery and footman grew out of the fact of the singular resemblance between the livery selected by the American millionaire and the Paris courtesan's. The fact that she served the millionaire to get a divorce is sure to give her a big boom in Paris, and tomorrow she will be the talk of the boulevards.

Decide to Assume Control of Affairs.

Report of the Meeting Held Yesterday by Them in San Francisco.

Committee Appointed Having Great Discretionary Powers—Outline of What They Propose

By Telegraph to The Times.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 5. — (Special) Dispatch.) The holders of the bonds of the Los Angeles Consolidated Electric Railway Company have decided to assume control of that organization, to greatly inprove its plant and to place the road upon a paying basis.

This conclusion was reached at a m here today, at which two-thirds of the $3,000,000 of the company's bonds were represented. The meeting was held in the office of Judge Allen, over the Bank of California E. B. Pond of the San Fran cisco Savings Union presided.

Among those present were Thomas Brown and J. M. Allen of the Bank of California; Lovell White, cashier of the San Francisco Savings Union; Col. George Stone, representing the People's Home Savings Bank; George N. Moore, president of the Pacific Mutual Life Insurance Company; Antoine Borel, Edward Coleman, Jerome Lincoln, Messrs. Smith and Trum-bull, representing 250 bonds held in the East, and representatives of the Wilmering estate; W. S. Goodfellow represented the Pacific Rolling Mills, and James Alva Watt appeared for the People's Home Savings

Mr. Pond stated the condition of the road, reviewed the recent visit of the road, reviewed the recent visit of the com-mittee which went to Los Angeles and examined the property, and stated the propo-sitions which were made by both sides. After some discussion Thomas Brown, Lovell White, A. H. Payson, President

Stone of the People's Home Savings Bank and Mr. Trumbull, the Chicago expert who was sent to Los Angeles to examine the books of the road, were appointed a com-mittee to carry out the details of the pro-osed reorganization.

The committee has been vested with great discretionary powers and will proceed to secure the desired results as rapidly as possible. The first thing will be to obtain the written consent of all the bondholders to the plan of reorganization. If this cannot be done, and it is problematical, for two or three of the bondhold-ers object, then the road will be sold under foreclosure.

Propositions agreed to by two-thirds of the bondholders may be briefly stated as follows. Interest on the bonds will be suspended until the floating debt is paid and improvements will be made to the road in a first-class condition. Interest will be reduced to 5 per cent. All terest will be reduced to a per cent. An cable roads controlled by the company, which have about the same number of miles as electric lines, will be transformed into electric lines.

Bondholders will furnish the money to improve the road and will pay the floating that. Subsequent improvements will be Subsequent improvements will be paid from the first earnings. Then the current interest will be paid.

The interest coupons, which will be pended for three years, will be paid from the net income after the payment of cur-rent expenses and current interest. No interest will be paid on bonds for

It is understood that the stockholders and bondholders are in accord to save road. The stockholders will transfer per cent. of their stock to the bondhold-ers. Then the present directors will resign and their places will be filled by representatives of the bondholders.

ANOTHER REPORT.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 5.-A meet ng of the boldholders of the Los Angeles Consolidated Electric Railroad was held this evening. Two-thirds of the bond issue of $3,000,000 were subscribed.

It was agreed that the road should be controlled exclusively by the bondholders, who will pay the floating debt and current expenses, besides the cost of necessary improvements. A committee to draw up an agreement and circulate it for signaures was appointed, consisting of Thomas Payson and J. Trumbull of Chicago.

Silver Men Cast Their Banner to the Breeze.

The American Bimetallic League Issues its Address on Money Matters.

They Declare Themselves as Oppose to the Single Gold Standard and Demand the Restoration of Silver.

Associated Press Leased-wire Service

WASHINGTON, March 5.-The follow ing was today issued by the American Bimetallic League. It is headed: State-

The money question is undoubtedly the other questions, however important, must less extent involves all others, is settled This issue is between the gold standard bonds and bank currency on one side and the bimetallic standard, no bonds and government currency on the other.

First—On this issue we declare ourselves to be unalterably opposed to the single gold standard and demand the immediate return to the constitutional standard of gold and silver, of the restoration by this government independently of any foreign power, of the unobstructed coin-age of both gold and silver into standard at the ratio of 16 to 1, and upor terms of exact equality, the silver coin to be a full legal tender equal with gold in payment of all debts and dues, public and private.

Second—We hold the power to control

Inappar-

Second—We hold the power to control and regulate a paper currency, inseparable from the power to coin money, and hence that the currency intended to circulate as money should be issued and its volume controlled by the general government only and should be legal tender.

Third—We are unalterably opposed to the issuance by the United States of interest-bearing bonds in time of peace and demand the payment of all coin obligations of the United States, as provided by existing laws, in either gold or silver coin at the option of the government, and not at the option of the creditor. On this issue we appeal from the dictation of the money power to the intelligence and the patriotism of the American public.

ADDRESS TO THE PEOPLE.

ADDRESS TO THE PROPLE. The signers of the Declaration of Inde pendence held that a decent respect of the opinions of mankind required that reasons should be given for dissolving the bonds that had bound the colonies to Great Britain, so we, who find it necessary to sever our relations with the political parties with which we have heretofore acted, and form new alliances in a common cause, deem it proper that some of the reasons which impel us to this action should be submitted to a candid public.

monetary reform for which we contend, as above set forth, is, in our judg-ment, so vital to the common welfare and so necessary to a return of conditions of prosperity in this country as to preclude so necessary to a country as to preclude longer delay in the inauguration of a movement the purpose of which is to bring together all who believe in the proposed reform. For bring together all who believe in the mecessity of the proposed reform. For this object and this alone, those in favor of the gold standard are and have been united in purpose and action. Party lines do not divide them when this issue is raised. Differences on other questions are then laid aside and together they "in well beseeming ranks, march all one way."

ls raised. Differences on other questions are then laid aside and together they "in well beseeming ranks, march all one way."

On the other hand, those who are in favor of a return to the constitutional standard of gold and silver, are split into as many divisions as there are parties. Silver Republicans from the West and South, to the great delight of the leaders of the Raubhilson party insign on contend. of the Republican party, insist on contend ing for their cause only within the line of that party, and Southern and Western Democrats, earnest silver men, equally to the delight of the leaders of the Democratic party, continue the contest on their part only within the party lines of the Democratic party. In other words the ad-vocates of the bimetallic standard, through unrestricted coinage of silver as well in now contend for their cause in orizations which are controlled by the party. Hence, however zealous in cause one may be, no results are poste because his party refuses to carry his views, or to permit them to be ted out.

out his views, or to peruit them to be carried out.

It is believed there is, and has been, for twenty years, a large majority of the voters in the United States in favor of the free coinage of both gold and silver, but the opportunity to vote their convictions has never been given them and their will has been continually thwarted by party chicanery. There has not been a Congress for twenty years which, except for the influence of executive parronage, or the fear of an executive veto, cept for the innuence of executive patronage, or the fear of an executive veto, would not have voted to open the mints again to silver on the same terms as to gold. Indeed, each house of Congress has at different times separately passed free-coinage bills, but this action has as often coinage bills, but this action has as of been frustrated by party manipulatio It is as necessary therefore to have President in sympathy with the cause to have a Congress in favor of it. IN UNION IS STRENGTH.

But enough has been said to show the impossibility of gaining our cause as long as we remain divided, or fight only in the as we remain divided, or fight only in the ranks of the gold party, or in organiza-tions controlled by the advocates of the sold standard. As well might our fathers have expected to win the independence of the colonies if, while contending for the cause of liberty, they had refused to sepa-rate from the Tories. Independence could never have been won by fighting for liberty in British regiments. And, fellow citizens this great warms liberty in British regiments.

And, fellow citizens, this great cause will never be won without unanimous action. It will never be won unless those who believe in it come together and elect a Congress and President on this issue. There is no hope whatever that the Republican party, as a party, will change its policy, give up the gold standard and restore the bimetallic standard. There are no grounds for such hope and we believe they are deluded who look for such a change of policy by this party.

The Republican party is committed to its leaders, by its record, and by the press behind it, to the gold standard, supported by gold bonds and to the retirement of the greenbacks and the surrender of the issue and control of paper currency to the banks.

Ne less persistent and effective is the by gold bonds and to the retirement of the greenbacks and the surrender of the issue and control of paper currency to the banks.

Ne less persistent and effective is the control of the money power over the organization of the Democratic party. While undoubtedly a large majority of the members of that party are opposed to the gold standard, they have been powerless to control that party organization against it, and much less to secure through it the restoration of the bimetallic standard.

While this is the case, it cannot be expected that the Republicans will abandon convictions of a lifetime and go into the Democratic party in a body or into a wing of that party. Nor will Democrats give up convictions they believe to be essential in government and go over to the Republican party party or a division of that party. Nor is it possible to finduce Republicans and Democrats together to go into the Populist party for the reason, if no other, that the platform of that party contains declarations, and the party advocates theories to which they cannot give their assent. But we must, in some way, come together on this issue, or the cause is lost, and with it the independence of the people. No old party ever carried through a greater reform.

New bottles for new wine; therefore, no subordinate, for the time being, other questions, and come to the front in a new organization to fight the battle of 1896 on the one issue on which the prosperity and happiness of the people so largely depend. It is believed that this cause can be won in no other way, and that to continue to contend for it only within the lines of the axisting parties is to court defeat at the outset and to lose the battle in the election.

A COMMON CAUSE.

The puirpose of this movement is not to array section against section, class against class, nor to require anybody to give up his convictions on other questions, or a sever his party relations for a purpose other than to unite in a common cause, the cause of justice against injustice, or prosperity instead of adversity, the redemption of labor, of abundance and his processor of the present system will promote in the highest degree the business interests of the entire country, while continuance of the present system must necessarily be attended by a further fall in prices and prolongation, indefinitely, of the present stagnation of trada and industry.

Better prices under existing conditions cannot be expected. A debtor nation cannot maintain an even list of process cannot be expected. A debtor nation cannot maintain an even list of process cannot be oxpected. This condition of things cannot be overcome by tariffs, much less by free trade. In the payment of our debt to ther countries we must compete with other debtor countries; with Argentine, with Egypt, with India, with all the colonies of Great Britain, and worst of all, with Abiatic races. These conditions from which there is no escape as long as the gold-standard policy is pursued, intensify the gravity of the situation in this country to the proper of the price of gold, by increasing debts, has absorbed from forty to fi

Frank Gould presented a chain of 200 diamonds which could be worn in coils about the neck, or entwined as a bracelet about the wrist.

Howard Gould gave a large knot or cluster of diamonds, each end of the glittering ribbon having as a tassel a superb blue and pink diamond.

The Marquis and Marquise de Castellane

The Marquis and Marquise de Castellane presented a superb unique necklace consisting of five ropes of pearls, each string of which is of historic interest, one having belonged to Henri Quatre, and another to Marle Antoinette. At one end of the necklace securing the five strands was a magnificent square emerald of exceeding beauty, surrounded by twenty-four diamonds. This is an heirloom in the De Castellane family, and could pass only to the eldest son.

The fact that their accounts were in a muddled condition was discovered about a month ago and at once a special committee was appointed to investigate the matter. Today a meeting of the Executive Committee of the society was held. The special committee presented their report in which it was stated that the shortage had been found. The report itself, the committee refused to make public.

Bishop Peterkin of West Virginia said tonight relative to the action of the Executive Committee: "The irregularities are such as to warrant the removal of the secretary and treasurer from office. The society expenditures are between $25,000 and $30,000 a year, and the money is paid out mostly in small sums, making the auditing of the accounts extremely difficult. The society has not been entirely crippled by these irregularities, but they have extended over a period of five or six years. It is impossible to make a detailed statement. I would not like to call it, a defalcation, but I will say that hereafter the society would like to have its money handled in a different manner."

He had been on a spree and was in a stupor when one of the loungers proposed to have some fun with the drunken man. They bought a bottle of whisky and, pouring out a glassful at a time, gave it to Kleinfeiter, who drank it eagerly. When the first bottle was empty they bought anohre, and this, too, was given to Kleinfeiter, the entire amount being drunk in about half an hour. When it was finished Kleinfeiter staggered to a chair, fell into it almost at once, and dropped apparently into a deep slumber. A short time afterward an effort was made to rouse him, but it was found that he was dead. The grand jury will probably investigate the matter and see if some one cannot be punished for the affair.

The resolution recited that the corporation is charging a rental of from $4 to $7 per month for the use of a telephone box, and yet it is believed that it is not contributing its just proportion of revenue for the maintenance of the State government. A constitutional amendment on the same subject, relating to taxation, was introduced by the same committee, and referred to the Committee on Constitutional Amendments.

Four bills were introduced under suspension of the rules. One compels Chinese fruit packers to stamp their boxes; another make a two-mile liquor law for colleges having not less than 250 students. The County Government Bill was taken up and various amendments were adopted.

The bill that passed the Senate, known as the Conlin claim, directing San Francisco Supervisory to pay John J. Conlin $61,577, an old street-contracting claim, was refused passage by a vote of 35 nays to 19 yeas in the Assembly.

Senate bills were passed providing for the removal of remains from cemeteries in cities having a population of less than 5000: amending the law relating to reports on estates; amending the law relating to letters of administration: providing against the adulteration of food and drugs; providing for a cement floor in the Chico Normal School; appropriating $6000 for tiling the first floor of the Capitol; appropriating $300 to pay expenses of the State suits for the thirtieth to fortieth fiscal years inclusive.

By a vote of 55 to 11 the bill appropriating $275.000 to pay coyote scale claims, which was refused passage yesterday, was reconsidered and passed by a vote of 52 to 14.

reconsidered and passed by a vote of 52 to 14.

The County Government Bill was amended so as to prevent the supervisors from changing fish and game laws regulating the close season, also in many minor details relating to salaries in various counties. The bill then went to third reading.

In committee of the whole it was agreed to report favorably on the bill to create a commission to revise the laws of the State; also on a bill to pay the claim of Maj. Ramon Picc; adversely on the bill providing for repayment of the purchase price of salt marsh lands; also on a bill providing for State and county veterinarians.

Bills were passed providing for the organization and government of drainage districts; for the drainage of agricultural lands; also to prevent the sale of shortweight butter.

WASHINGTON, March 5.—The exodus of members and ex-members of Congress from Washington which began immediately after the adjournment, was kept up today. Ex-Speaker Crisp, who was among those who came to the Capitol, said he expected to remain in the city until Friday, when he would leave for home for a season of rest and recreation. A majority of Sensitors will probably remain in Washington for a week or ten days, but several left immediately for their homes. The Sensitors have business to close up which will require some time, while not a few from the North who are comfortably situated in Washington, will remain here during the spring. SACRAMENTO, March 5.—Gov. Budd has been figuring upon the expenses which the present Legislature proposes to foist on the State. He finds that the contingent expense bills already signed, the bills before him carrying appropriations and the General Appropriation Bill as passed by the Senate exceed, in the total of expenditures provided, $11,000,000.

TACOMA (Wash.,) March 5.—The city is threatened with a water famine. An in-junction was issued restraining the city from using water from Clover Creek, the main source of supply. This supply was recently bought by the city from the Ta-coma Light and Water Company, and the city has been engaged in lawsuits ever since it made the purchase. An attempt is being made now to have the city re-pudiate $1,000,000 worth of bond; issued in part payment. C. R. Wright of Philadel-phia is the largest holder of the bonds.

Resolution Charging that the City is Corrupt to the Core.

SPRINGFIELD (III.,) March 5.—In the tate Senate today Senator Johnson offered a resolution charging that corruption exists in every department of the city of Chicago and Cook county, and providing Chicago and Cook county, and providing for a joint committee of three men from the Senate and four from the House to investigate the whole city, and county machinery. It charges that the Chicago Councilmen bartered valuable franchises to individuals and corporations without the least regard for the public welfare, and the po ice department grants immunities to criminals and shields the unlawful element. ful element.

HOUSE AND BARN OF A MAN ARE BURNED.

He is Badly Injured Trying to Save His Property and Says that He Thinks Indians Set His Place on Fire.

REDDING, March 5.—Henry Cummegs, who figured conspicuously last week in the Superior Court of this county in a divorce suit, and which was denied, there not being sufficient evidence to warrant the judge in allowing the same, was brought into town in a horrible condition.

He relates his story as follows:
"While sitting in my house at Montgomery Creek two Indians came up, asking me to take a walk to a bridge which somery Creek two lindas came ap, asaring me to take a walk to a bridge which they wanted to repair. We had not got more than 200 yards from the house when I saw a big smoke coming out from my barn. I ran back as fast as I could, the Indians following, and I saw at a glance that I could not save the barn and that my house would also be burned, so I ran to the house and tried to save what I could. In attempting to come out I was struck on the head with a timber which dazed be and I fell to the ground, but not before I was frightfully burned about my head and hands.

"While lying there a neighbor came up to where I was lying, and with his hands in his pockets asked, 'Are you hurt much, Cummega?' I could not speak, but raised my hands and signaled him to go away, for I did not want to see him, for he and his wife swore to abominable lies in my divorce case, and they have said that they would get me out of their neighborhood some day. It is my opinion that they hired these Indians to burn me out.' The divorce case last week was sensational in the extreme. Cummegs secured is wife through the medium of a matriand landed three blows to Brennan's one in every round.

Stift weighed 160 pounds and seemed in zood condition. The Californian weighed 178 pounds and was in poor condition. Stift after a few seconds sparring sent Brennan down with a straight right on the ear just at the beginning of the first round. Brennan landed a terrific counter on Stift's chin a moment later and the round closed with a succession of clinches. Stift rushed Brennan in the second and sent in a number of swings. Billy had the best of the third Brennan landing only two effective punches. The Californian was dazed in the fourth and received several hot iabs and swings.

Warm in-fighting marked the next found, both men finally falling in a wrestle.

CHECK-RAISING SWINDLE.

STARTLING DEVELOPMENTS ARE BROUGHT TO LIGHT.

An Acid that Will Wipe Out the Ink on a Written Check and that Will Absolutely Defy

OMAHA (Neb.,) March.5.—Startling derelopments have been brought to light in the Union Pacific check-raising swindle today which are calculated to alarm al corporations paying in checks.

The discovery was made that the gang who operated on the Union Pacific system have a method of erasing ink with an acid which defies the best made paper guaranteed to show the slightest prese of acid or other foreign substance. amount secured by the work of the gang is not yet known, but it is not as large as at first supposed. The fact is not regarded as of much importance, however, as compared with the new process which is puzzling the company's chemists and detectives. The paper on which the checks are printed have been regarded until now as being absolutely proof against manipulation, but the operations of the gang of experts shattered all claims of the inventors of the paper that their in-vention is acid proof. The checks which were raised failed to The checks which were raised failed to show a single erasure mark, and the amount of the check in figures in the right hand corner as well as the written amount in the body of the check were wiped out as completely as if cloth had been used in removing dust from a table top. Not content with removing the figures, in one instance the name of the employee was removed and a new name subtituted, showing they had mastered the stituted, showing they had mastered the secret completely.

Frank Brown, local treasurer of the Union Pacific Company, stated that he had never seen checks so flawlessly altered as in the Denver case. They had passed through his hands, but a powerful glass had failed to show the least manifestation, and if he had not known the checks were raised he would have sworn that they were as originally, made. It was his opinion that no altered checks would turn up on the theory that the men had been able to clean up quite a sum and would leave for other fields to prosecute their rascality.

What is to be done is the question which is perplexing the minds of officials at the Union Pacific headquarters today. They argue that the puncturing of the amount of a check on its face by a machine invented for the purpose can be filled out with papier mache, painted over and a new puncture made for a different amount: that chemically prepared papers are of no avail with the discovery of acids that will wipe out the most reliable ink as easily as dirt may be displaced with water.

Detectives After Them.

Arizona Weather.

Arizona Weather.

(Arizona Citizen:) The monthly meteorological summary issued under the direction of Mr. Burrows of the Tucson weather station is full of interest. For the month ending February 28 the highest temperature was 29 deg., and the lowest temperature was 29 deg., above zero. The mean temperature was 54.4 deg. On the first three days of February the thermometer fell to 30. This was caused by the cold winds blowing from the snow-capped peaks of the Santa Ritas. The second cold snap was on the 17th, when a cold wind also prevailed. On the 13th and 26th there was a trace of moisture, otherwise the month was absolutely dry. The mean temperature for February for ten years is 53 deg. above zero, and the average precipitation for the same time is 91 of an inch. The number of absolutely clear days in February was fourteen: partly cloudy, cleven; cloudy, three, but there were no frosts. Although this month by Arizonians was considered unusually cold, still, taken on the whole, it was hard to beat.

BUSINESS

FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL

OFFICE OF THE TIMES, LOS ANGELES, March 5, 1895. LOS ANGELES, March 5, 1895.
The United States Investor, a weekly publication which is issued simultaneously in Boston, New York and Florida, and which some time since offered prizes for the best articles descriptive of various cities of the United States, is now offering $1000 in prizes for suggestions for bankers, bank offices and bank clerks. The prizes are divided into three, of $500, $300 and $200 respectively.

are divided into three, or $500, $500 and $200 respectively.

These suggestions may be in form of anecdotes, narrations of personal experiences, how a boy began in a humble capacity and arose to be cashier or president; local peculiarities of banking in different sections of the United States; substantially respectives, respecting the payment of ingestions respecting the payment of in-terest on deposits; criticism or approval of various forms of loans; descriptions of the miscellaneous varieties of security offered and accepted in different localities; methods of book-keeping, improvements bank work, curious frauds, or noteworthy instances of mismanagement; occurrences which will serve as a warning to young men to build up good characters and acquire the respect and confidence of their acquaintances; suggestions for revision of State of national laws respecting banking and currency; in fact, any suggestions respecting banks or banking which would be useful or interesting to bankers, bank officers or bank elerks.

Any readers of The Times who may wish to compete for these prizes should address the Investor Publishing Company, No. 185 Franklin street, Boston.

The demand for oranges still continues lively and shippers are kept busy in forwarding fruit to supply the demand. Eastern dealers appear to be well satisfied with the quality of the California fruit this year. New York has been drawing a good deal of its supply from Valencia and Jamaica. A Florida trade paper, noting the fact that fifty carloads of fine navels had arrived at Philadelphia, expressed the belief that the Quaker City could use 600 carloads more. As The Times has said on several occasions the orange-growers of Southern California have an excellent chance this season to redeem the reputation which they have in a measure lost in shipping inferior and partially frozen fruit in previous seasons.

It is a curious as well as an unfortunate thing that retail dealers will persist in selling. California products under foreign names. It works great injury to the producer, and it is difficult to see where it can benefit the dealer, as the consumer would certainly not care about the name of the product as long as its taste is satisfactory. The raisin-growers used to suffer a great deal from this cause, but California raisins have acquired such a reputation that they have succeeded in establishing a name. The olive-growers and wine men of California still have to compete with their own products sold under foreign labels. The prune-growers of California are at present complaining bitterly of the manner in which they are handicapped by this short-sighted policy on the part of dealers.

Prof. C. H. Allen, who had charge of the horticultural exhibit at the Pure Food Exhibition, recently delivered an address on prunes pefore the State Horticultural Society. Prof. Allen said he had visited the leading grocers in San Francisco and found they were selling their prunes for from 18 to 25 cents a pound. They pay the farmers in Fresno Valley, who raise the fruit, but 5 or 6 cents for the same article. In the journey from Fresno to San Francisco these prunes undergo a wondrous transformation and are put on the market in the stores as French imported prunes of high grade.

wondrous transformation and are put on the market in the stores as French imported prunes of high grade.

Prof. Allen claims that it is impossible to get a dealer in San Francisco to sell California prunes as such. They all masquerade them as imported prunes.

He said: "If you call for California prunes in any store in this city you will be shown something for 25 cents a pound which the dealer will tell you is a very fine imported French article. If you insist on seeing a California product he will reluctantly bring out a very small, dried-up, inferior specimen, and state that it is all he has. Now this I call a shame. It is harming our fruit industry greatly; it is doing the consumer a great injustice by making him pay an inflated price for a home product; it is glving an enormous profit to the local dealers, and leaving the producer entirely out in the cold. We are being slaughtered in the house of our friends."

When will the retail dealers of California display a little more State pride as well as common sense, by selling California products under their right names? These people depend themselves for success upon the prosperity of the State and it is a dirty business which they are engaged in when they seek to cast discredit upon a product of the State by selling the best qualities under foreign brands and leave-those who do not know any better to think that the inferior qualities are all that can be raised in Cali-any better to think that the inferior quali-ties are all that can be raised in Cali-fornia.

Meantime, it would be a good idea to organize a home-product club, such as has, been suggested on several occasions by The Times, the members of which would pledge themselves, other things being nearly equal, to give the preference to articles of home production.

GENERAL BUSINESS TOPICS. One of the latest and most remarkable developments in agricultural affairs in California is the leasing by Chinese of a number of fruit ranches in the northern part of the State A syndicate of wealthy Chinese of San Francisco, composed of members of the Chinese Six Companies, has secured a lease on that portion of the ranch of Gen. John C. Bidwell, the Chico millionaire, that is devoted to orchards, and during the coming fruit season several hundred the coming fruit season several hundred Chinese laborers will be shipped to Chico to work on the property. The Pacific Fruit-packing Company, whose large cannery was one of the few establishments of the kind that ran full time during the past two fruit seasons, is interested in the deal, and will pack much of the product of the ranch. Gen. Bidwell's orchard was for many wears the most extensive fruit.

deal, and will pack much of the product of the ranch. Gen. Bidwell's orchard was for many years the most extensive fruit-producing ranch in California, and still ranks second, containing between 4000 and 5000 acres planted in deciduous fruits. Nor has the syndicate stopped at the one place. Several extensive orchards in the northern fruit belt, which comprises the districts about Marysville, Chico, Vina, Willows, Red Bluff and Oroville, and aggregating several thousand acres, have been secured at rentals varying from $1000 to $5000 per year.

It is understood that Chinese laborers will be shipped from San Francisco to the ranches to undertake all the work. As these laborers get all their supplies from the Chinese merchants in San Francisco, these in turn getting many of them from China, the result will be to interfere seriously with the trade of merchants in the cities named. The surplus white labor which has hitherto found employment during the summer in the orchards is also likely to prove an element of trouble.

This is certainly not a condition of affairs that can be viewed with satisfaction by those who take an interest in the development of the State. So far the activity of the Chinese in this section as cultivators of the soil has been confined almost entirely sto the raising of vegetables, which they do in some cases on quite an extensive scale. The remedy for such a condition can only be found in small farms which are sufficient to keep a man and perhaps a part of his family busy during the year. Such small farms constitute the stronghold of Southern California, as The Times has frequently remarked, and the more we have of them the better. As far as the benefit to the State is concerned in building up a prosperous, happy and self-supporting community, a fruit ranch of 5000 acres is not much better than a grain farm of the same size.

NEW YORK, March 5.—The Evening Post's London cablegram says that a sharp raily in American securities was the only feature of the stock markets. The rise was led by Louisville and Nashville, which was bought by Rothschilds's brokers. A reassuring cablegram received from August Belmont as to the position of the Louisville Company caused prices to close steady. Canadian Pacific was exceptionally flat on bear news. The annual report is expected to show that the entire reserve is wiped out. Grand Trunks were sold on the traffic returns. All the other stock markets were duli and featureless.

A dress of brown velvet and mode cloth shows beside-this. Its gored skirt is garnished with parallel rows of stitching in groups of three, which hides the seams and ornaments at the same time. Brown velvet gives the waist, which is made with a moderately long basque open in front and back and edged with sable. A wide belt is of mode satin.

A little while ago it would have been atrocious taste to wear a 10-cent bunch of artificial violets tucked in at the threat just as a bunch of the real flowers might be worn. But now every other woman, well and ill-dressed, seems to do this. Perhaps the well-dressed woman paid more than 10 cents for her bunch, but $\frac{1}{2}$ looks like a 10-center for all that. There has never been anything so generally worn and so cheap that kept its prestige as an accessory as this little purple flower has.

San Diego Yearns.

(San Diego World:) What have we been sending members to the State Legislature for during the past forty-five years? To get something for San Diego, of course. Well, what has San Diego ever got? Vetoes, nothing but vetoes! And yet we sitidly by—most of us. Let's make the wiret hot between here and Sacramento. Let's secure a branch State Norman School here, a seawall appropriation, or something. Let's not take "nothing" any longer. Let's not take "nothing" any longer. Let's assert our rights, for they are just. San Diego has been most shamefully ill-treated, discriminated against, and has invariably been "given a stone when it asked for bread." Think of the millions of San Diego's hard-earned money that our county treaserers have sent by Wells Fargo & Co'.s express to the State treasury at Sacramento during the past forty-five years. And what have we got in return? Nothing, nothing—but vetoes. But the time has now arrived for San Diego to demand its just deserts and to get them! Let us no longer supplicate ourselves and beg, ask and curry favor of the much favored. Let us demand our rights, for they are just and meritorious—and we will get them!

A PLEASANT FACT.

The spirit of good will and the ten dency to acknowledge the progress of this section, which has sometimes not been strongly noticeable among some of our northern people, seems now to be happily in evidence, as we hear nothing but good words of glowing commendation of our Citrus Fair, and the results achieved by Southern California fruit-growers.

We are glad to be able to record this fact. If local jealousies could all be wiped out it would be a happy thing for the future of California. We

THE CITRUS FAIR.

The attendance at the Citrus Fair has so far been a disappointment to the managers of the enterprise and to who are interested in seeing the a success. The attendance up to date has been less than one-half of what it was at the last fair, which was held in Los Angeles two years ago. Unless the attendance should improve from now on very materially the re ceipts will not be sufficient to cover the expenses, and the gentlemen who have en so public-spirited as to guarante a fund for the purpose will be called upon to make up the deficiency. This is much to be deplored. Every one agrees that the present fair is in every respect the best which has ever been held in Southern California, which is equivalent to saying that it is the best citrus fair that has ever been held in the United States, or in world. The decorations are artisfic in the highest degree, the fruit is of the finest quality, and the other attractions alone are sufficient to satisfy any reasonable person.

The fruit and decorations are certainly worth the moderate price of admission-25 cents; the music is undoubtedly worth 50 cents-it is fully equal to what Los Angeles people have been paying from 50 cents to $1 to hear in Los Angeles, without any fur-ther attractions—and, to judge by the crowds which surround it, the exhibit of the linotype machine at work is also worth the "full price of admission." So that here is a dollar's worth of ment and information for the small price of 25 cents, and at the same time it is in support of an industry from which the city of Los Angeles draws its main source of rev-

The trouble is that this year the strangers are not "within our gr as they were on previous occasions Most of the visitors this year are Los Angeles people. The hard times have struck the rich people in the East this year as they struck the poor people last year. Even the people in the country districts of Southern California seem to be unable to attend this

For this reason it is especially neces sary that the good people of Los Angeles should give the fair all the support that is possible, not only becaus it is fully worthy of such support, but because, as above stated, it is representative of an industry upon which this city relies so largely for its support and prosperity.

There are no fakes at this fair. It is purely an exhibit of the citrus resources of Southern California, with an excellent orchestra of music. The few booths for the sale of light re freshments are there for benevolent purposes, the proceeds being devoted entirely to local charities. The people of Los Angeles, who have shown so much public spirit in the past, should rally to the support of the Citrus Fair: ould attend themselves, and see that their friends go there. It would no be creditable to Los Angeles if this enterprise, which has involved so much labor and expense, should prove a Gnancial failure.

AN OFFICIAL TANGLE.

There is a maxim of the law to the excuse. But ignorance of the law or neglect to comply with its provisions, the me'or the other, is responsible for lety and no little consternation among county officials. It has lately been discovered that some new offices were created by the last preceding Legislature that were not filled at the last election, and as a consequence some of the county officers are performing duties that they are not authorized to by the law as it now stands. best prima facie case, would be de-covery of this fact has led to frauded of his rights because of his perform by the law as it now stands. withholding of the pay of certain

This would place a wealthy contest-ant at a distinct advantage over a poor one. Would it not be better for each house of the Legislature, immediately upon its assembling, to ap-point a committee to investigate the claims of all contestants and report upon the same as soon as possible, al-lowing contestants who could present a strong case to bring action in the usual way, and requiring those who could not make out a strong case to pay their own expenses should they persist in making a contest? It would seem as if some such plan might be made to operate successfully.

It is probable that if the Gunst of be carried to the Supreme Court, as it doubtless will be, the decision of the lower court, denying the Governor's power of arbitrary removal, will b sustained. It is evident that the law affecting the tenure of office of the San Francisco Police Commissioner hould be amended. But the amend ment of the law, it would seem, should be such as to take the power of appointment entirely out of the Govern-nor's hands and to place it in the hands of the Mayor of San Francisco. Municipal governments should be autonomous, so nearly as possible. The State government, while reserving sovereign authority, should delegate to local governments all the powers necessary for the management of their local affairs. There is no more apparent reason why the Governor of the State should appoint police commissioners for San Francisco than there is why he should appoint the Chief o Police of Los Angeles or the Board of Trustees of Pomona. To lodge in the hands of the Governor the arbitrary power of appointment and removal any officials, excepting those directly under his personal direction, is a dan-gerous delegation of power easily sub-ject to abuse and contrary to the spirit of popular government. The Governor should have power of removal for well-defined cause, but his power should not be arbitrary or auto-

In common with many other news papers of the State, the Bakersfield Californian opposes the extension of the legal legislative period from sixty o 100 days, and says:

"Would it not be the better idea to extend the number of working hours daily? As things are at present conducted the Legislature works about four hours a day for five days in the week—scarcely that. The nominal meeting hour is 10 a.m. At 12 they adjourn until 2 pm. And after a adjourn until 2 p.m., and after a couple of hours they again adjourn. On Saturday there is little work, as the majority of the members desire to go to San Francisco, and they do not return till Monday noon. Then when a holiday comes, like the 22d of Febru-ary, two or three more days are lost. So it goes all through the session."

As The Times has pointed out, pro-tracted legislative sessions are unde-sirable from every point of view—excepting, perhaps, from the point of view of the salaried attaches and hangers-on about the Capitol. Unde the present system about three-fourths of the time of each legislative session s frittered away. Too many bills are introduced and too much time is wasted in needless discussion of unimortant or vicious measures. If legislators would attend strictly to the business they are sent to Sacramento to transact the sixty-days' session would be ample for all purposes.

San Francisco is slow in many things, but she is, to her reproach, in advance of the age in having a minister-one Rev. L. W. Sprague, of the Unitarian church—who is emphatically in favor of divorce where dissension and disagreements exist in the married relation. Indeed, he thinks the Bible merely a reflex of the age in which it was written, and away behind the civilization of these modern times in most things. It is well for us that the pulpits of the country do not hold many men of such ilk.

Although Congress failed to pass the bill for a Hawaiian cable, the necessity for the cable is so apparent as hardly to admit of discussion. The sooner it gets to work the better.

It is a noteworthy fact that thos papers which inveigh most wildly against the "nauseating publicity" the Castellane-Gould wedding are the ones which exploit the affair under the boldest headlines and chatter most glibly about it. AT THE PLAYHOUSES.

ATTRACTIONS TONIGHT .- The Calhoun Opera Company will give its opening performance at the Los Angeles Theater tonight, presenting "Amorita," the Polish composer Czibulka's greatest effort. Ascomposer Csibulka's greatest effort. Assurance is given that since the company was last here it has been materially strengthened in lyrical unity and dramatic force, and the management promises an excellent performance of this bright and melodious composition. The Nobles of the Mystic Shrine of Los Angeles and vicinity will attend tonight in a body, a complimentary theater party to E. D. Shaw of this company. The opera is said to be replete with the moving graces of sparkling melody, while the spe will be feasted with lines of beauty and artistic coloring. Mr. Warde James, arrived in the city yesterday, and is a guest of the Hellenbeck. Mr. Warde announces that the approaching engagement of his stars in this city will positively be their last appearance here together, as they will each have companies of their own next season. The tragedians have just finished a highly-profitable engagement in San Francisco and Oakland, and are resting this week. Mr. Warde states that the success of the Shakespearean revival, "King Henry IV.," which is the feature of the tragedians' repertoire this season, has upset all the ideas and theories of Eastern critics and managers as to the decline of Shakespear's popularity with the masses, and only serves to prove that Shakespeare, properly presented, with competent actors and adequate scenic effects, will always prove popular and successful. During their week here Messra, Warde and James will present "Julius Caesar," "Othello," "Francesca da Remini," "Richelleu," "Richard III" and "King Henry IV."

The Los Angeles Delegation is Dis-mayed by the Deadly Parallel.

W. Sampson and the Cold Tea Proposition—Defining the Boundary of Los Angeles and Orange Counties.

GACRAMENTO, March 5.—(Special Correspondence.) Either because of the impression effected by the speech of Mr.
Cutter, who the other day denounced the flippancy with which serious legislation was being approached and transacted, or because of the warning afforded by the near approach of the end of the regular session, the House has buckled down 20 work and is wading through the long avenue of bills before it with considerable expedition. Mr. Reid, the Democratic obstructionist who has let few appropriation or claim bills go by him without tion or claim bills go by him without rising to an interrogation point, beginning usually with the phrase, "Mr. Speaker, it usually with the phrase, "Mr. Speaker, it seems to me," has gracefully bowed to the wishes of the Republican majority to proceed with the work on several occasions of late, and Speaker Lynch has found a way to dispose of even the irre-pressible Laugenour. He placed the latter in the chair Saturday afternoon, and the youngster from Yolo made a very efficient chairman. The Senate is ambling along in a dignified way further occasionally a dignified way, interrupted occasionally by interjections from McGowan, Seawell or Withington. There is much to be done, however,

There is much to be done, however, and the question of adjournment sine die is still an indefinite quantity. It is said that the Senate is in favor of reconsidering its resolution to adjourn March 8 and of setting the time at two weeks from Monday, which would bring the date to March 18. The Assemblymen are waking up to the fact that consideration of the amendments to the General Appropriation Bill, (even though the opposition to the State and district fair items appears to have broken down) the County Government Bill, possible amendments by the Senate to the General Fee Bill and the voluminous act revising the revenue and taxation laws of the State may prevent action on their own pet measures, and not a few of them are inclined to the belief that Mr. Cutter was not lacking in his usual shrewdness when he wagered with Mr. Bulla an oyster loaf that the session would not close until March 23. The Los Angeles statesman says the 15th or 18th inst. It has been rumored that a scheme is on foot to adjourn at the regular time without having disposed of the General inst. It has been rumored that a scheme is on foot to adjourn at the regular time without having disposed of the General Appropriation Bill. This would compet Gov. The Lexow bill is another proposition that cannot be altogether ignored, though it has not been receiving any too much consideration of late. Judge Waymire has had an up-hill fight on his hands, as some of the very bect men in the House opposed the proposed commission for the reason, as some of them allege, that they would be powerless to dispossess Gov. Budd of office even though rank frauds were discovered, and that it is the duty of every honest grand jury to investigate alleged frauds for itself. When the call for the joint Republican caucus for Monday night was issued last week it was generally understood that whatever action might be determined upon in regard to the Lexow bill should be final as the session is too near an end to admit of much further parleying. No predictions were made, however, as to the outcome. Rev. Dr. Dille who was accused by Gov. Budd of quoting him falsely in his speech before the Ways and Means Committee in relation to this bill, found on return to San Francisco that his study had been extend the Ways and Means Committee in relation to this bill, found on return to San Francisco that his study had been entered during his absence and all his papers had been ransacked. This strengthens his belief that the evidence of frauds as secured by the Civic Federation and which evidence was supposed to be in his possession, is of value to others than the federation. No Republican has yet been found who wears creps because the Supreme

They appear to think that Gov. Jimmile, if successful in this instance might try his hand elsewhere, and so politics doth make cowards of them all.

The Los Angeles delegation is somewhat taken abaok by the editorial in an organ of that city that the Board of Supervisors claim that the new schary schedule of the County Government Bill will raise the expenses by $12,000. They had fondly imagined they were effecting a saving, even if not a great one, and humbly await information as to where they were "off" on so important a point. Having cleaned up most of the proposed amendments to formation as to where they were "off" on so important a point. Having cleaned up most of the proposed amendments to the County Government Bill they are now discussing the General Fee Bill in its relation to Los Angeles county and also the voluminous bill for the revision of the revenue and taxation laws of the State prepared by the special committee composed of Assemblymen Freeman, Reid and Dinkelspiel, assisted by Expert Morze of Riverside. At the suggestion of Mr. Bulls the delegation has requested Deputy County Clerk Barcoe and Deputy Auditor Wood, who so materially assisted in the proparation of the amendments to the County Government Bill, to examine the provisions of the Revenue and Taxation Bill. Deputy Barcoe has found therein one startling clause which would have the effect of holding the Assessor responsible to the Auditor for all uncollected or delimquent personal property and poll-taxes and virtually deprives the Assessor of all his defenses when sued therefor by the District Attorney. This section is held to be clearly unconstitutional.

He was editor of the first newspaper—the Observer—published in the interest of the colored race in Southern California, and had associated with him Rev. Tillman Brown and R. C. O. Benjamin, the well-known colored orator and African fakir. Sampson was also connected with the Western News of Los Angeles in 1890. He admits the statement made in this correspondence that he has been dispensing red Hquor in the sergeant-at-arm's room, but says he knows it was wrong, and that he only did so under orders. In this connection it is strange that no Bledsoe of the Senate has been found bold enough to denounce this sale of whisky within forty feet of the deliberative chamber of that august body. It is no secret that Hquor has been sold there, and that Senators of supposed integrity should have allowed it to go on in violation of the law is strange, to say the least. Sec. 1 of the act of April 16, 1880, to prohibit the sale of liquor in the Capitol building, reads as follows:

Sec. 172 of the Penal Code, in effect April 3, 1876, is more applicable to the case in point. It says:

Large congregations attended each of the services of the all-day meeting in Peniel Hall yesterday. The theme of the day was "The Deity of Jesus Christ." Able and interesting addresses were given in the morning by Rev. Dr. Read of the Baptist Church, and by Dr. J. P. Widney, who showed how His deity was declared by the Old and New Testaments, and that Jesus Himself always claimed to be equal and one with the Father. In the afternoon Dr. Cochran of the University and Rev. A. C. Bane were the speakers, and in a most forcible and enthusiastic way they showed how the works of Jesus, wrought during His incarnation and in the age since, proved Him to be God. At night the regular meeting was more than usually well attended.

"Instantaneous Conversion" was the theme of the sermon last night. The sick man at the pool of Bethesda was immediately healed when the Savior spoke the word of healing to him. The woman having an issue of blood touched the hem of Jesus' garment and immediately she was made whole. The Israelites bitten by the serpents in the desert looked at the bragen serpent and immediately were healed. So the soul who looks with penitence from his sin to the Savior is straightway saved. The meeting last night was one of great power and a number of persons responded to the evangelist's invitation to indicate their desires to become Christians. This evening the sermon will be upon "Two Looks at the World to Come."

A large and enthusiastic meeting of the Pacific Gospel Union was held last evening at sevening. The first Congregational Church came as visitors. George Hanns left last night for Visalia and various points in the San Joaquin Valley, and will confer personally with leading-citizens with reference to the participation of that section in the flesta. Frank J. Cooper, chairman of the committee which has this matter in charge, has received answers to a number of letters sent to Tulare, Visalia and elsewhere, in which the idea of participation in the celebration is considered an admirable one. The writers say that there is difficulty in switching the interest of the people of the valley away from the railroad enterprise at present. The new railroad is all the talk, and the attention of everybody is riveted upon it. In each and every one of the letters received the advantage to the valley of making a display in the flesta parades is commented upon, and the committee is in hopes that public-spirited citizens will make the necessary arrangements.

Cooper of Los Angeles, in which it is suggested that Tulare county make arrangements to be represented at La Fiesta, which lasts from April 15 to 20, in that city. The proposition is to have a float containing a collection of the products of the county. A number of the collections already in existence with additions would be a great deal better than to let the opportunity pass without action. The real estate agents of the country ought to form an association to act on such occasions as this. Our space is altogether too limited to enter into details in this matter, but action similar to that of the Los Angeles real estate agents would bring good results."

A happy idea has been hit upon by the Committee on Secret Societies, which holds its next meeting tomorrow night. It is proposed by the committee to have a congress of all fraternal societies one evening during flests week, if an evening can be found for it, at which there will be exercises and an address on fraternity. The indications are that there will be a large turnout of members of different orders from all over Southern California, and such an occasion would not only be unique, but of very great fraternal interest.

The committee has been very busy for several days securing lists of lodges of different orders in this section and sending out invitations for them to make arrangements to join their Los Angeles brethren in showing the immense strength of the orders. It seems to be quite a general opinion among those who have spoken about plans for representation that societies do not fancy the idea of preparing floats. The sentiment for participating in the parade is, however, growing, and the nearer the flests approaches the more willingly do members of fraternal societies view the plan. Society men are no more exempt from the feeling of making the flests a big success, than all other classes of citizens and that is the universal feeling this year. It will be a fine thing for fraternal orders to muster in force, and it will be a most attractive feature of the flesta parades.

A communication was received by Chairman Wiehartitz of the Music Committee, yesterday from W. W. Yesterday the Committee on Trades and Manufactures was notified that the butchers of Los Angeles will take part in the parade, and that they will make a display which will be unique and attractive. They propose to go into the parade with a very large and elaborate display.

Prof. T. S. C. Lowe has informed the Southern California Committee that he will, for the Southern California pageant, send a float which will be more elaborate than that of last year, and for floral day two coaches and six carriages handsomely decorated with flowers, and a train of thirty "mounted horses." It will be a brilliant feature of the flesta.

At a meeting of the Floral Committee yesterday afternoon a communication was received from a lady living in Los Angeles, in response to the request of the committee making some charming suggestions for floral day, as follows:

"Having lived for a number of years in Santa Barbara I had an excellent opporgestions for floral day, as follows:

"Having lived for a number of years in Santa Barhara I had an excellent opportunity to notice the different arrangements and color schemes carried out in their parades. One that I thought particularly striking was what they termed a 'tub parade.' Each young lady who was the possessor of a two-wheeled cart would decorate it with some pretty flower, one noolor predominating, such as the scarlet geranium, marguerite and calla illy. One that I have in mind was indeed beautiful, decorated entirely in scarlet geranium, the wheels being one mass of red flowers surrounded by the green leaves. In each cart were seated two young ladies becomingly gowned in keeping with the decoration, thereby carrying out the color scheme. One young lady carried a parasol made of the flower; there being twenty-different flower.

"Now, my idea is for the committee to send a communication to the young ladies of our Angel city, asking those who have dog-carts, or carts of any description, to decorate them in this way. Also, there are a number of children who have Shetland nonies and carts and they also could be decorated in this manner. It would be well to let the carts be a division by themselves. The California poppy will then be blooming in great profusion and a cart decorated in this lovely flower would delight the heart of the visitors."

Mr. Schumacher stated that the people of Eagle Rock Valley will arrange a floral display characteristic of that pretty section, in which the noted Eagle Rock will figure.

The committee discussed their plans for the parade and decided to dissue an address to the public in which the rules governing it will be clearly set forth and a proper classification be miside.

Arrangements for the instiffation of the carnival government on Monday night of flesta week were discussed yesterday afternoon by the Amusement Committee. Col. W. H. Chamberlain met with the committee for the first time, and warmade the head of a sub-committee to devise a programme for this interesting event. It was partially arranged that flesta headquarters will be the rallying coint at 7 o'clock Monday evening for (he director-general, advisory board, members of the flesta committees and officials of the carnival government, the latter in costume. A procession will be formed which will move to the Pavillon, where the installation takes place. It will be accompanied by bands, and there will be no objection to the participation in the procession of all loyal subjects of the queen and her court, who will be no honored by the queen in forming her government. The proceedings will be enlivened with excellent music. The Artistic Committee has settled on the coverings for the horses of the Pageant of the Pagific. They will have coverings of white cotton flannel, trimmed with sliver braid, and the men who lead them will be attired in dominoes of like color. The pampas plumes for the horses will also be white.

The Public Comfort Committee met last night. Chairman H. P. Anderson presiding. The matter of the organization of a bureau of information, and preparation of a list of hotels, lodging-houses and private residence where visitors may obtain accommodations were discussed. A subcommittee consisting of Chairman Anderson and Messrs. Lichtenberger, Woolner, Fixen and Boynton were appointed to look into the matter of publication of a pamphlet of information. Flags were draped everywhere and the mational colors were caught in great fans along the balconies. Heavy satin and velvet banners, glittering with gold, hung over the balustrade of the main gallery, and a wide drapery of deep-red plush made a note of rich color along one end of the hall.

Altogether, the Citrus Fair took on quite a new appearance, especially as the for-tunate tables which received the awards were brave in ribbons which told a tale of glory measured out to those favored sections.

Duarte-Monrovia and Orange county were the only exhibits that displayed the national colors on military day. They were draped in the red, white and blue and decorated with flags, the work of two Grand Army men, Capt. Johnson and M. B. Yackey, who were on the committees. After this fair is over it will be a case of the glory departing from the house of disrael, for it is probably the last that will be given in California for some years at least.

Telegrams were received vesterday fron Sacramento announcing that the appro-priations for citrus fairs had failed to pass, and that probably no more would be made. As this may be the last big orange display for some years, the remain-ing days of it ought to draw larger crowds

Thursday and Friday are the especial days when the ladies of the booths are prepared to receive those of their friends who have signed the cards promising attendance at the fair. About a thousand people have signed so far, and the ladies hope that all will be present. The attendance in the evening is exceptionally good, but in the morning, and afternoon it is rather slim.

The afternoon is the best time to hear the music and see the exhibits at leisure. The band is giving some magnificent concerts this week. Yesterday was a day of battle-pieces. The descriptive scene in commemoration of the battle of Gettysburg, given in the afternoon, was finely rendered, and was received with hearty applause.

The drummer's call was followed by the assembly reveille; then came the solemn prayer and the signal to commence firing. The battle was given with most realistic effects; and the victory, celebrated with the "Star-spangled Banner" and the homeword march to reticnal art.

the "Star-spangled Banner" and the homeward march to national airs, stirred the audience to the wildest enthusiasm.

Many responses to encores were made by the musicians, and several extras were played, both in the afternoon and evening.

The descriptive compositions and popusar airs drew much applause, but the real skill and excellence of the band is shown when the magnificent meiodies of the great composers are exquisitely rendered.

The sweet and dreamy "Traumerel" of Schumann was given in a way that kept the crowd breathlessly still, and the overture and symphony from Mendelesohn and Schubert were warmly appreciated by all lovers of good music. The "Last Rally" in the evening stirred the throng with keen excitement and some were affected even to tears.

The strange, blood-curdling Indian music, the scarching burgle-calls, the thunder of battle, the martial strains of our "Red, White and Blue," the mournful dirge for the death of our gallant colders, the grief and anger of the belated re-enforcements and the low, sweet wall of the bugle sounding "taps," all combined to make a most impressive piece of descriptive music, which it is hoped will be repeated before the fair closes.

Yesterday was also Riverside day, and among the visitors from that place were noticed: J. S. Castleman and wife, Joseph Jarvis and wife, Dr. Deere, Whiliam M. Hughes, A. H. Nactager, William M. Hughes, A. H. Nactager, William M. Saraker and wife, Miss Anderson, Mrs. and Miss Frazer and T. C. Jameson.

IN SOCIAL SPHERES.

A jolly little party of eight, consisting of Mrs. Mabel Dawson, Misses Myrtle Watkins, Ethel and Alfoe Walker, and Messrs. Arthur Ellis and John Boswell of Boston. Mass., and Frank Gates and Walter McStay of this city, last Saturday afternoop made the ascent of Mt. Wilson, the party having chartered a special burro train at Sierra Madre for that purpose. The trip was a most enjoyable as well as a novel and interesting one, the departure from the blossom and fruit-laden orange groves at the foot of the trail, and the arrival a few hours later on the snow-bedecked crest of the Sierra Madres being an experience that was new to most of the party, and one that can probably be had no other place on the globe. A stop was made at Martin's camp for the night, and an early rise was made next morning for the purpose of viewing a surrise in the mountains. The gorgeous color of the eastern sky as "old Sol" peeped his head above the mountain tops, combined with the wild and romantic surroundings, created a picture that will long live in the memories of those who witnessed it. After an early breakfast the burro train was again brought into use, and a visit paid to the peak, Echo rock, Strain's camp was found a home-made sled, and a portion of the morning was spent in coasting down the snow-covered slopes in the immediate vicinity. The descent of the trail was begun early in the afternoon, and the party arrived in this city in the evening somewhat tired, but all expressing themselves as having had the most enjoyable outing of their lives.

ARIZONA'S MINES.

CAPITAL IS SHY OF IN VESTMENT THERE.

Los Angeles Assayer Tells of His Experiences While Traveling in the Southeastern Part of the Territory.

For some years Arizona has been forging ahead, the varied resources of the country being developed, and a steady, if not very large, influx of people continuing to settle in the fertile valley of the tropic belt. The cry has ever, been "Capital!" with which to carry on the multifarious schemes of improvement recognized as necessary, and yet that have had to be left in abeyance for lack of the much-desired capital.

E. M. Wade, an assayer of this city, has just returned from a trip through Arizona, and his epitomized verdict regarding the Territory is that with more capital Arizona would become in these days what California was in '49 and the early fifties. And this, too, taking no cognizance of the Territory's resources save mining.

"Among other of the camps visited," remarked Mr. Wade, yesterday, "was the Washington, in the southern part of Pima county, and about thirty miles from Nogales. There is a most curious formation there. There is a solid mountain of limestone cut up by veins of copper, silver and lead ores. For two miles, this mass of limestone may be traced, all cut up by these intersecting veins of valuable mineral. A Duquesne company began to mine, and has been succeeded by an Indiana company, and these people have put in concentrators by means of which 100 tons of ore per day are handled. Of course it is a low-grade proposition, but the supply appears inexhaustible. The assays have averaged twenty-eight ounces in silver, 33 in gold, and about 8 per cent. copper, with just enough zinc to make the ore somewhat refractory.

"One of the most promising locations is being negotiated for by Los Angeles parties, and if the purchase is consummated there will be a good return on the money invested, despite the fact that considerable money will have to be expended in a concentrating plant, in addition to which the concentrates will have to be smelted.

"About forty miles southeast from Tueson, in the Santa Rita Mountains, work is being carried on at the copper mines of L. J. Rose, and some of these days it will prove a surprise. The ore is very fine and all that has been the matter has been that it wasn't developed. As the property is opened up upon, and the ore accumulations warrant the starving up of the $60,000 smelter erected, the outlays made will be more than recouped. At the property is at present in the hands of a receiver, but the outlook is good and encouraging. A tunne has been run in for

They audited the usual monthly bills, received the Engineer's estimate of $14,560 as the cost of extending Third street, provided for a conference on the subject of licenses, but a few matters over for a fortnight and adjourned. H. Melindey was granted permission to cut rum trees in front of his premises.

S. C. Berry, purchaser of the Exchange saloon petitioned for a license in place of that held by C. P. Donau. The matter was laid over until the next meeting.

Town Engineer James presented a detailed report accompanied with map, showing the proposed extension of Third street, with estimate of the cost at $14,560. He was instructed to confer in the matter with ithe Southern Pacific engineers and make further report at a future meeting.

Attention was called by the Town Attorner's to the fact that the license ordinance expires April 30, and suggested that its substitute be considered in committee of the whole, with invitation to the public to attend and submit suggestions. A motion prevailed that such meeting of the committee occur at the last meeting in March.

SANTA MONICA, March 4:—(Special Correspondence.) Hillbrand & Michel, the dairymen, are losers to the extent of a valuable Jersey cow, which mysteriously disappeared between two recent days. This method of depleting local herds is getting to a stage of frequency which will make very unpopular any man who may hereafter be conclusively connected with it. With a regularity which causes uneasiness to owners, an animal has been dropping out of sight at intervals for the past few months, and some one is going to get into serious trouble if it is not stopped. There is a theory abroad that in a district south of town dwell people whom poverty and want drive to crime. A shard surveillance of the region has been inaugurated, and it is hoped that a solution of the cattle-thieving may be arrived at soon.

The big coal bunkers at the wharf are now in a state of fulness exceeding anything they have heretofore known since they were constructed. Four successive ships have emptied their cargoes into the bins, and the supply of cars has been totally inadequate to their relief. During the last hours of discharging the Mineola the cranes had to be silenced for a few hours to permit a trainload of coal to be removed to make room for what was left. It has been a steady pull for the customs officers for the past month, and the respite which followed the sailing of the Mineola was welcomed by the force.

Shawl draping is the newest thing now for cloaks; that is, the garment is of the cape order but hangs in a long point front and back with a shawl effect. The points come about to the lines. At the sides the cloak reaches to the hips or to the finger tips. This design is in demand for opera cloaks of the shorter varieties. The dol-man linds new favor from being called a cape. (Harper's Young People:) A student in Syracuse University, who is deeply interested in autograph-collecting, penned a polite request for an autograph, inclosed ested in autograph-collecting, penned a polite request for an autograph, inclosed a postal note for 25 cents, and addressed the envelope, "Victoria, Queen of Great Britain, London, Eng." He watted three months for a response. Then he wrote again, making the earne polite request, but adding a postsoript to the effect that in his opinion either the autograph or the quarter ought to be forthorning. At the end of a little more than a mouth he received the autograph.

I would not encourage this cort of thing among American boys and girls. The Queen never knew, of course, that the student made such a request, yet the autograph was genuine. Did you ever see Queen Victoria's autograph? I have seen it many times in the British Museum, among records of Parliament in Somerset House, London, and on exchange copies of treaties in the State Department, Washington.

Queen Victoria writes a coarser hand now than she used to do, but it is still firm and full of character. She now signs hereelf, "Victoria, R. I."—the letters on the same line with her name. Before she added the "I" she used to write the "R" beneath her name, connecting it with the final stroke of the "a" in her name by a rather stiff flourish. Of course the "R" signifies Queen of Great Britain and Ireland, and the "I" Empress of India, the Lettin initials being used.

A GOOD THING.

The Educational and Health-giving Value of Athletics.

(Harper's Weekly) Civilized man who will not exercise as an average does not live out half of his allotted threescore years and ten. Lack of exercise is not the sole cause of this degenerative tendency, of course, but it is one important cause. Hence, recognizing, this, it becomes the duty of man, in virtue of his boasted rationality, to dispel this cause, and by giving proper attention to his body to prepare his mind for further conquests. The necessity for this forces itself upon him in a way that leaves no ground for question. The only things to be determined are the degree of development that is to be desired, and the methods by which it may best be secured.

As to the degree of development that will tend to preserve the health of the muscles and other organs, it is, of course, impossible to speak except in general terms. Every one secures some measure of exercise in the routine of his ordinary life. But very few vocations are calculated to give the various muscles of the body symmetrical exercise. The rational thing, of course, is for any individual to exercise perfunctorily those sets of muscles that are not exercised naturally in his ordinary manner of living. For the vast majority of people under ordinary conditions of living the muscles that are most slighted are those of the chest and upper extremities. Nearly every one is obliged to walk enough in a day to keep his leg and his thigh muscles in a condition of reasonable tonicity. But the average individual has chest and upper-arm muscles that are flabby and undeveloped to the last degree.

Measurement of a few average arms will at once satisfy any one of this. There was a time, doubtless, when our ancestors had arms as large as their legs, perhaps even larger. Our remote tree-dwelling relatives have such arms now. But centuries of biped use have developed our lower extremities disproportionately until now the same individual (if normal.) It is held by anatomists that the fully developed upper arm at the present stage of our racial evolution should be

A Musical Genius.

A Musical Genius.

(Harper's Young People:) During the reign of Louis XI. of France there was attached to his court one Abbot de Baigne, a man of considerable wit. The abbot was somewhat musically inclined, and delighted the court with inventions of odd musical instruments. One day the King, after having enjoyed a hearty laugh over one of these curious contrivances, and desiring to baffie this musical genius, commanded him to produce harmonious sounds from the cries of hogs. This seemed an impossibility to the King, and he prepared himself to enjoy the discomfiture of the abbot. Much to his surprise, however, the abbot readily agreed to produce them. All he required was a sum of money, upon the receipt of which he declared he would invent the most surprising thing that was ever heard.

He scoured the country and secured a large number of hogs, trying their voices as to pitch and quality, and finally having fully satisfied himself he arranged the animals in a sort of pavillon richly decorated. The day of the trial arrived and the King and his court entered the pavillon prepared for something, but greatly in doubt as to the success of the abbot with the hogs. However, there were the hogs, sure enough, and much to the surprise and delight of the King they commenced to cry harmoniously and in good tune, rendering an air that was fairly recognized.

tune, rendering an air that was fairly recognized.

The abbot had arranged a series of stops that were connected with the hogs, and upon pulling one of them out caused a spike to prick the hog it connected with, making him squeal his note. The rest was easy, for pulling out the different stops he produced the tune. The King and all his attendants were highly delighted with it.

Election "Contest" Jobbery. (San Francisco Post.) Robbing the State treasury by means of election contests has long since become a legislative industry of magnificent proportions. On every occasion when the people's representatives assemble at Sacramento from one to five contests are instituted—usually in the Assembly— for no other purpose than to fasten upon the legislative bills for costs, attorneys' fees and other expenses which it cannot in fairness refuse to pay. These contests are based upon a principle which is of vital importance to a republican form of government—that is to say, the principle that the people ought not to be represented in any legislative body by a man who is not their choice. Not only is this principle subverted by the boedlers who get up election contests in the Legislature—those—affairs being often based upon the most frivolous grounds—but the object is rarely or never to obtain the seat for the contestant. Indeed, if that is the object it generally falls, for the reason that the session is nearly always at an end before the contest can be decided. (San Francisco Post:) Robbing the State Baltimore's Successful Car-fender.

Baltimore's Successful Car-fender.

(New York Herald:) Baltimore has solved the problem of providing life-saving fenders for cable cars and trolleys. New York and Brooklyn should profit by the example. Under the pressure of popular indignation the Baltimore authorities passed an ordinance compelling all rapid-transit companies in January to equip their cars with a fender approved by the "car-fender commission." a board appointed by the city. The penalty is $5 a day for each and every car operated without the prescribed fender. Already about ten lives have been saved by the new fender, and Baltimoreans are entirely satisfied with it. The experience of Baltimore shows that New York and Brooklyn cable.

ars and trolleys will never be with real fenders until the people imposing fines upon the companies for running any car not equipped with a fender which has been duly examined and fully approved by the city authorities themselves. It is folly to think of leaving this important protection for public astety to the car companies. They will never take any real and effectual action until compelled by law. It is a crying shame that the dives of many thousands of citizens are hourly jeopardized because the city government permits the cable and trolley companies to run their juggermauts regardless of who may be mangled under their wheels. Mayor Strong and Mayor Schieren have now a fine opportunity to do the public a great service in compelling these companies to respect the lives of citizens.

CHRYSANTHEMUMS.

He lured me from the fire-lit room Adown the garden path, to see The white chrysanthemums in bloom Beneath the cherry tree. And while the autumn twilight fell In tender shadow at our feet, He told me that he loved me well, In accents silver sweet.

I heeded not the faded leaves;
I never heard the walling wind
Which mourned amid the silent leaves
For summer left behind.
The golden hours might all depart;
I knew not that the day had flown—
My sunshine lay within the heart
That beat so near my own.

Now, spring has come with flower and bird And softly o'er the garden walls, By warm south breezes flushed and stirred, The perfumed blossom falls. New buds are on the hedgeside spray; New grasses fringe the country lane; But never in the old sweet way Shall we two stand again.

My mother clasps my listless hand
And tells me that the roses blow,
While all about the happy land
Drifts fragrant hawthorn snow;
But looking from my lonely room
Adown the path, I only see
Some white chrysanthemums in bloom
Beneath a cherry tree!

STORM.

The wind is abroad in the trees, tonight,
The clouds hang heavy and low;
But few stars show their struggling light,
The others are drowned, I know. I saw the face of the dead moon float Where parted the billows of cloud, A white face, set in a tangle of mist, Above a dripping shroud.

How the wind wails on through the stormy night.

How it tortures the writing trees,
As it sings a dirge for the pale, dead moon,
Drowned deep under murky seas.

That Servant Question

That Servant Question.

New York Commercial Advertiser:)
"When in the throes of the servant girl question," said a gentleman yesterday who had but recently returned from the West.
"I can look buck with some degree of pleasure upon the system of Chinese servants in vogue there. You people of the East do not know what good servants are and cannot until you have tried Chinamen in that capacity. My experience since I have been there has been somewhat novel. Having always had Chinamen in my house, I have never had to take from my servents what seemed to be an absolute independence and indifference which I find in the people I employ here. Recently my wife has had to almost daily listen to the ultimatum from one or another of the servants we have. It is either "I'm going to leave," or 'I find the work too hard, so I'm going, without warning or giving you an apportunity to get a person to fill their places.
"How different with Chinamen. They always supply some one for their place before they leave. For instance, when a Chinaman becomes dissatisfied he never tells you of it. But some day you will go into your kitchen to find your Chinaman

Without being the least disconcerted he will come to you and say: "Mrs. Blank, you likee me cookee?" "Why, of course, John," will perhaps be the reply. 'You findee no fault, hey?' will be the next question. Then after you have told him that he was entirely satisfatory, he will say to you: "Well, Sing Lee will do cookee now, John's going to leave." "And with no further explanation he will leave the house. The new Chinaman will immediately begin his duties just as if you had hired and made all arrangements with him. You will find that the new cook has been coached in the dishes that are your favorites, and you will have no more trouble, having a conscientious, faithful servant. This thay seem like a day-dream to housewives who have worried themselves sick about servants, but, nevertheless, it is a true picture of the manner in which Chinamen treat their employers."

Park Bonds. ORDINANCE OF INTENTION PASSED BY THE COUNCIL.

An adjourned meeting of the City Coun

An adjourned meeting of the City Council was held yesterday afternoon for the purpose of acting on the ordinance of intention for park and other bonds.

The ordinance not being in readiness it the time of convening other business was acted on. All the Councilmen were present save Munson and Savage.

An ordinance granting to the Pacific Oil Refining and Supply Company the right for a period of twenty-three months to lay and maintain an oil pipe for the conducting of petroleum was passed. The route is the same as that for the franchise for which a bid from J. H. Bradbeer was accepted at the Monday meeting of the City Council.

Councilman Pessel moved that the Street Superintendent be instructed to replace the street sign at Pico and Prospect streets. This motion was adopted after being amended, on motion of President Teed, so as to include the sign at the corner of Scarff and Twenty-third streets.

It was announced that the crdinance of intention ito call a bond election for parks and other purposes had not yet been presented by the City Attorney and the Council accordingly took a recess for half an hour in order that the ordinance might be acted on.

When the Council reconvened an ordinance was presented granting an oil pipe line franchise to J. H. Bradbeer in accordance with his proposal that had been accepted. The ordinance was adopted.

The City Attorney then presented an ordinance of intention to call a bond election for the purpose of submitting to the voters of the city the question of the issuance of bonds for a number of propositions as follows: Elysiam Park, $100.000; East Side Park, $25,000; Westlake Park, $25,000; Land for headworks for a waterworks system, $30,000; a city jail and site, $40,000; a library building, $50,000; total, $27,000.

Councilman Pessell, whose constituents, judging from his endeavors in that direction, are desirous of having a park near them, moved to amend the ordinance so as to include a proposition for $50,000 for streets.

Councilman Ashman seconded the mo-

At the suggestion of the Chief a committee was appointed to investigate on the matter of spring uniforms for the police force. Commissioners Field and Weber were selected as members of such committee.

Street Incidentals.

Col. W. E. Morford, who is book-keeper under Street Superintendent Howard, has Col. W. E. Moriou, and the cold with the City Auditor a statement showing the financial transactions of the street department since the present administration came into office. The statement shows the amounts received as deposits for sidewalk, excavation and building permits, engineers' fees and printing and advertising. It is further shown what sums have been paid and what are outstanding. There is stated to be of such moneys deposited in bank $6948.63, and the cash on hand is $983.61.

A misapprehension it appears has been created by reason of the washing away of a portion of the pipe used for conducting zanja water to East Los Angeles. This break does not prevent water from running from the main supply ditch to reservoir No. 4 in Echo Park and on to Westlake Park. It is expected the damaged portion of the pipe will be repaired within a few days.

This afternoon is the time for the regular monthly meeting of the Board of Health. It is thought, however, the meet ing may be postponed in order to give time for the ordinance providing for the appointment of the meat inspector by the board to go into effect.

The ordinance was passed by the City Council at Monday's meeting, but does not go into effect until signed by the Mayor and officially published. It will be placed in the hands of the Mayor this morning, and it is thought there will be no delay in the completion of the proceedings necessary for it to be put eedings necessary for it to be put in

A SENSATIONAL DAMAGE SUIT.

In Department Six yesterday the trial of the case of L. E. Chittenden vs. J. H. Toifree, an action for damages for alleged malicious prosecution, was commenced before Judge McKinley and a jury.

Most of the day's session was consumed in securing a jury, but after the panel had been completed the pleadings were read and all the necessary preliminaries disposed of, so that the taking of testimony may be at once proceeded with when court convenes this morning.

The plaintiff alleges four distinct causes of action in his complaint, and asks judgment amounting in the aggregate to $22,500. He avers, in the first place, that the defendant on January 20, 1894, directed his brother, L. H. Toifree, to go before N. R. Wilkeson, a justice of the complaint charging him with grand larcenty, thereby maliciously and without probable cause obtaining plaintiff's arrest and subsequent imprisonment for sixteen hours. The case being dismissed on March 1, 1894, without examination, he asks $5000 damages for the injury to his good name and inconvenience occasioned by his arrest.

Secondly, he alleges that on January 21, 1894, defendant directed his brother to so before I. M. Carelon and the order of the property of the pr and inconvenience occasioned by his arrest.

Secondly, he alleges that on January 21, 1894, defendant directed his brother to too before F. W. Craig, another justice of Kern county, and swear to a complaint charging plaintiff with the burglary of the Depot Hotel at Mojave and the theft of $904 therefrom. This case was 6ismissed on January 24, and he therefore asks for $5000 more.

Thirdly, he alleges that a new complaint was sworn to before Justice Craig on January 24, 1894fi upon which he was subsequently examined and hell to answer, but subsequently obtained his release through the medium of habear corpus proceedings in Los Angeles county. He claims the defendant caused his arrest, etc., to be published in The Times, and that one twelter in the large on exhibition in the "rogue's gallery," to his damage in the further sum of $10,000.

Lastly, he asks $2500 more for the action of the defendant in attaching the sum of $725 which he had on deposit in the Farmers' and Merchants' Bank in this city.

The defendant denies that he was influenced by malice, and sets up as his defense that there was probable cause for his actions in the prosecution of Chittenden.

Burkhart was arrested by Deputy Constable De la Monte yesterday and taken before Justice Young in the Township Court for arraignment. He was ordered to appear for trial on Saturday afternoon next at 3 o'clook.

Burkhart, who was at one time the owner and manager of the "Nickel Plate" cahuenga Valley Railroad, now owns a lodging-house at No. 439 East Third street, which is leased by Joseph D. Brown. Among the latter's roomers was the Rissio woman, but her conduct proving objectionable to her neighbors, she was notified to vacate her room. This she refused to do, and steps were taken to compel her to leave. On Saturday evening last, finding that the door of her room had been locked during her absence, she proceeded to make a forcible entry, but Burkhart appeared on the scene and put her to flight by brant think product the product of the scene and put her to flight by brant think product of the product of the product of the scene and put her to flight by brant think product of the product

THE DUGAN CASE ON TRIAL.

Samuel M. Dugan, an ex-policeman, appeared before Judge Shaw (sitting for Judge Smith) and a jury yesterday to answer to the charge of having, on September 29 last, assaukted Police Officer Robert E. Lee with intent to commit murder at the corner of Second and Main streets. Deputy District Attorney McComas appeared on behalf of the State to prosecute the case, while W. H. Shinn, Esq., represented the defendant.

The work of securing a jury occupied the whole of the morning and part of the afternoon session, the twelve men finally accepted and sworn to try the case being H. C. Benton, P. H. Buills, A. B. Caidwell, H. J. Cone, George H. Frost, Frank Gerling, James N. Harmon, W. S. Hurlbut, F. W. Partridge, E. R. Royce, P. N. Trahn and Leslie Williams.

The complainant, Robert E. Lee, was the principal witness examined for the prosecution. He testified to the effect that about 8 o'clock in the evening of the date above mentioned he was standing on the curb, at the corner of Second and Main streets, with a number of others, when Dugan came up and made some remark with reference to Lee's interference with a fire hydrant. One word led to another, and Lee finally said, as Dugan walked away: "Go on, you bastard, I don't want to talk to you." Dugan immediately wheeled round, drew his gun, pointed it at Lee's head and fired. The only effect of the first shot being to puncture a hole in Lee's hat, Dugan fired again several times, wounding his brother officer in the arm before being disarmed and arrested by the bystanders. The testimony was corroborated in the main by one or two eye-witnesses, and the matter thereupon went over until 10 o'clock this morning.

Battle with Croup—The Best Remedy.
(From the Providence, R. I., Telegram.)
What word carries more terror to a mother than croup, that insidious visitor who steals upon her children at night when drug stores are closed and physicians pot within reach. Croup does its deadly work quick, and if not met at the outset with stringent methods is almost sure to prove a conqueror. Every mother should keep a remedy where she can reach it at the first ominous bark. It has been truly said that a bottle of Perry Davis Pain-Killer on the medicine shelf insures greater safety from such ills than would a doctor in your house, Pain-Killer was the chief remedy of our grandfathers and with all the advances of sciencenothing has been found to take its place.
For croup it is without an equal. An instance of this was yesterday cited to a reporter by Mrs. J. B. G. Hoskins, of No.
30 Marion Street, the wife of one of the sturdy wheelwrights of Providence, R. I.

"Nobody knows the anxiety, the torture of mind I have experienced because of croup. Hours of sleep I have lost while watching at the bedside of my boy, who has suffered almost a thousand deaths from croup in its worst form. I tried every remedy that kind friends could suggest.
All failed me, and I was in despair. PainKiller finally conquered the terrible disease.
My boy is nowseven years old, and whenever I see that croup is returning I give PainKiller. In twenty minutes the trouble is over and we both go to sleep.

"Pain-Killer. Why I wouldn't be without it in my house a moment for a king' ransom. I feel as though it cured my 20year old son of bronchitis after all other remedies failed, and it saved me the probable loss of a limb from a broken artery, caused by the kick of a vicious horse.
Pain-Killer at once reduced the swelling and prevented blood-poisoning,"

NO RULING YET MADE

The Santa Fe Grievance to Come Up Today.

The Southern Pacific Calls for a Ruling on Short Line Rates.

Ambitious Mexican Railroad Schem to Bring the Colony of Topolo-bampo in Touch with the Civilized Centers.

The fact that the Santa Fe road ha given notice of a restoration of the second-class rate to Chicago on the 14th inst-has been, in some quarters, assumed to mean that the chairman of the Passenger littee had overruled the objection the Santa Fe to the action of the Texas cific. Such assumption is unwarranted the facts in the case. Chairman Caldell declared that the action of the Sant was not warranted by the facts as he terstood them, and upon this utterance onts have freely been bandled about reports have freely been bandied about that the complaining road had been adjudged without just cause for the open cut in rates. As a matter of fact, however, Chairman Caldwell spoke simply as he understood the case from the mecassarily brief telegraphic dispatches forwarded to him from this city. The hearing of the case, after which a formal rulling will be made, was set for today, and it was for the purpose of being present in Chicago today that Passenger Traffic Manager White left Los Angeles when he did, carrying all the evidence in the case with of outside lines will cease.

THE SOUTHERN PACIFIC OBJECTS.

Quite recently allusion was made to the scalping rate made to Kansas City and Sloux City by which opportunity was afforded the brokers to do a profitable scalping business. Tickets have been issued by the Southern Pacific reading via Kansas City and Omaha, was a good thing for the scalpers but very bad for the Union Pacific. The latter road raised a strong protest and the Southern Pacific agreed to take the tickets off the market and thus prevent the reprisals threatened by the Union Pacific.

Now the Southern Pacific is grumbling, in turn, and has appealed to the Passenger Committee that a ruling be made on the Santa Fe making short line rates from California points to Milwaukee by way of Chicago. The local rate between the two points is $2.55, and so far it is true that by just so much may a through ticket be realped. But how does that compare with the rate to Chicago by way of New Orleans is $47.50, and from that point to Chicago $23. A scalping rate like this must cause the brokers to rejoice. The Southern Pacific, too, conveys passenger traffic from San Diego to Missouri River points by way of San Francisco, Ogden, Salt Lyke and Denver at precisely the same rate as by the short line, and this through the best scalping section of country in the United States. And so, illustrations might be given almost ad libitum that it is extremely difficult to so adjust rates that each and every road will be perfectly satisfied.

IN HONOR OF JUDGE MINOR.

The Bar Association's Respect for Departed Member.

Departed Member.

The Bar Association met, pursuant to call, at the courtroom of Department Four at 9:30 a.m. yesterday to take appropriate action concerning the death of Hon. Samuel Minor. The meeting was called to order by F. B. Gutbrie, Esq., and on motion Judge Waldo M. York was called upon to preside and H. S. Rollins, Esq., was elected secretary.

Judge Waldo M, York was called upon to preside and H. S. Rollins, Esq., was elected secretary.

The object of the meeting being stated, it was moved by F. B. Guthrie, Esq., and seconded by J. T. Houx, Esq., that a committee of five with John Shirley Ward, Esq., as chairman, be appointed by the chairman of the meeting, to draft resolutions of respect for the memory of Samwel Minor, deceased, and present the same to the association for adoption at the ccurtroom of Department Three on Monday, March 11, 1895, at 10 o'clock a.m., which motion was carried. The chairman appointed as members of that committee Messrs. John Shirley Ward, chairman; F. B. Guthrie, H. T. Lee, N. P. Conrey and Hon. J. W. McKinley.

A motion was made and carried that as many members of the association as could attend the funeral of Judge Minor at 2:30 pm. at the late residence of the deceased, No. 1133 Ingraham street.

It was moved that there be appointed a committee of one for each department of the Superior Court to inform the several courts and the attorneys there present of the death of Samuel Minor, Esq., and of the time and place of the funeral services, which motion was carried. The following gentlemen were appointed by Judge York: Messrs, J. T. Houx, F. W. Burnett, H. C. Dillon, J. T. Jones and William Chambers. On motion the meeting adjourned to 10 o'clock a.m. Monday, March 11, at the courtroom of Department Three to receive the report of the Committee on Resolutions.

WOMAN AGAINST WOMAN.

MRS. PLATT AND MRS. KNOX CHARGED WITH ARSON.

The Mysterious Burning of a Cottage Gives Rise to Criminal Proceedings-Claimed to be a Clear Case.

A complaint was filed in the Township Court yesterday by Miss Minnie Dunham, charging Mrs. Amelia Platt and Mrs. Julia Knox with the serious crime of arson, which she alleges was committed on July 27 last, on Lightning street, between Electric and West Pico streets.

A warrant was issued by Justice Young, which was duly served upon the two women by Constable Yonken. They were subsequently taken before said Justice, for arraignment, when their attorney, H. An Pierce, Esq., moved the court to quash the complaint upon the ground that the facts alleged therein did not constitute a public offense. This motion was, however, de-alleged therein did not constitute a public offense. This motion was, however, denied by the court, and the matter set for hearing on preliminary examination for this afternoon at 1:30 o'clock, bail being required meanwhile in the sum of $1000 each.

The two women are sisters, Mrs. Knox being the wife of a well-to-do rancher, who is at present harvesting the grain on his Inyo-county ranch, while Mrs. Pratit is a widow. Both are well known in the community of Pico Heights, and are highly respected.

respected.

The facts in the case, so far as they can be gathered in advance of the prerespected.

The facts in the case, so far as they can be gathered in advance of the preliminary hearing, are as follows:
Knox owned a small cottage on the west side of Lightning street, between Pleo and Electric streets, which he and his family occupied. It was comfortably furnished, and as he and his wife owned considerable personal property, Knox had no difficulty in inducing Frank Blake, the local agent of the American Fire Insurance Company of New York to issue a policy on the property for $1200. A few months later, on the night of July 27 last, the house and its contents were destroyed by fire. None of the family were at home, strange to say, and the cause of the blaze was wrapped in mystery. As there had been a number of mysterious fires in the neighborhood just before this one, the insurance agent very naturally moved cautiously in the premises. Knox presented his claim in due form, showing proof of losses amounting to about $1100; but suspicion was further aroused when it was found that the list of lost property included a quantity of diamonds and other valuables.

An investigation was made with the re-it was found that the reincluded a quantity of diamonds and other valuables.

An investigation was made with the result that evidence sufficient to convince the District Attorney that there were good grounds for a criminal prosecution, was brought to light.

What this evidence consists of the authorities declined to state yesterday, but they are confident that when produced at the preliminary hearing this afternoon it will convince the court that there is sufficient cause for the holding of both defendants to answer to the charge of arson in the Superior Court.

The richest brocades do not satisfy the extravagance of the present taste and designs are outlined in pearl beads. The woman who wears such a gown cannot sit down, she cannot lean up against anything, and she cannot be hugged, in a way that amounts to anything. It seems as if it would be better to have the lady's maid wear the gown, just to prove that as it the would be better to have the lady's maid wear the gown, just to prove that the mistress possessed one of the latest, while the latter might come along after her in a nice, hugable plain rig.

The panels of the godet skirts are often matched by similar ornamentation on the bodice, a device that is ingeniously expressed in this picture. Herein old blue cloth is garnished with white cloth and blue applique. Princess of cut and fastening diagonally in front, the gown bas a pointed white yoke and a large fancy collar of the same, both being appliqued with blue. These harmonize with skirt panels and the same ornamentation appears on the turned-back cuffs. Oxidyzed sliver buttons set off the waist.

Velvets are not used at all for skirts but they are being put into bodices and promise to run lighter fabrics hard. Plaid and check velvets are both in vogue as well as mirror effects. Then there are bright green, cerise and eminence, all much worn by advanced folk. Sleeves are enormous, extending straight out in the shoulder line and narrowing sharply to the wrist. This is the most popular sleeve for all but evening and very dressy gowns.

sleeve for all but evening and very dressy zowns.

Sun-pleated chiffon is very pretty and costs enough to make it popular with the class of women who are always worried because pretty things are so soon put at the disposal of the millions., This new kind of pleating makes the folds spread in rays from a center. Whole skirts are made in this way, the rays starting from the belt. Bodices of chiffon to be worn over a silken lining are pleated so that the folds form two sun-ray centers, one at each side of the front at the bust line. These are hard matters for ordinary folk to copy, economically. FLORETTE.

DANGER THAT LIES IN COMBS. (From Our Regular New York Fashion Cor-respondent.)

Everybody wears side combs and the most careful taste is necessary to avoid vulgarity. The correct comb for all but dress occasions is a real shell or amber made with fine teeth and a very narrow be planned to show as little as possible and not to attract attention to itself. For dress occasions a comb with its heading set in tiny rhinestones is in good taste and seems less extravagant than to use should be reserved for dress occasions. The side comb calls attention to the quality of the hair and the shape of the head. Therefore, it is unwise to wear a comb that will show, unless the hair is glossy and of good color and the head of good outline. But, alas, the average woman does not understand the philosophy of ornament; she wears her side comb because the other woman does, and dons her jeweled ones chiefly to show she has them.

because the other woman does, and dons ther jeweled ones chiefly to show she has them.

The accompanying picture illustrates a far more important item of heargear than any kind of combs, a round black plush hat whose brim is faced with small colored felt and whose low crown is encircled by a number of guipure points edged with narrow bands of zibeline. At the left a full aigrette is held to the brim by a bunch of very small tips. The brim is turned up with two dahlias; one of violet velvet, the other a clear sulphur yellow.

Theater hats continue to be odd little combinations of which the beginning and the end cannot be seen. The idea now seems to be that the headdress shall be a series of detached portions. On the top of the head appears a spreading bow, perhaps, then down by the ears is a knot of flowers, while at the back of the head at either side there is a little fall-of lace. All these little detachments belong to the same "bonnet." but you do not see how they are held together. Indeed, some women really complete a bonnet effect by fastening a little knot of violets here or there that does not pertain to the bonnet itself at ali.

Pensioning Teachers.

Pensioning Teachers.

Pensioning Teachers.

(Tulare Register:) It is time that the proposition to pension teachers or any one else was so effectually squeiched out as never more to be heard from. The teachers of California are better paid than any other set for teachers in the United States or elsewhere on this green earth, and if they cannot, of themselves, combine their savings and provide a home for their aged or infirm as the Odd Fellows and other organizations have done and are doing, they deserve to suffer because of their incapacity. It is probable, however, that when they cease looking to the State for aid and begin to cast about among themselves for their own behalf some sort of fraternity will be the outcome and such an achievement will result as will make the teachers of California proud of themselves and the State proud of them. There is no sort of help so helpful as self help.

(Oakland Tribune:) Florida importing California oranges to supply the tables of its hotels is a splendid advertisement for the land of perennial sunshine, fruit and flowers." By this act even Florida acknowledges the supremacy of California in the matter of climate and productions.

DISCUSSION ON THE SUBJECT OF WATER STOCK.

A Reward for Andy Parks-Juvenile Industry—Notes from the Ho-tels—Briefs and Personal Mention.

PASADENA, March 5.—(Special Corre-mondence.) The circular mecently issued by the Pasadena Lake Vaneyard Land and Water Company to its stockholders is by the Pasadena Lake Vineyard Land and Water Company to its stockholders is creating considerable comment and discussion among the interested parties. The document referred to proposes an amendment to the second article of the charter, defining the rights and powers of the directors, which it is suggested be so altered as to give the board power "to lease, sell or otherwise dispose of the right to use surplus water, for the benefit of the stockholders, under such rules and regulations as may be established from time to time" by that body. Heretofore, under the old charter the company has been unable to dispose of surplus water and the furnishing of water to any but stockholders would invalidate the charter. The original corporation was rather upon the mutual benefit plan, and not an association for profit, therefore dividends were, and are at present, a manifest impossibility. The company claims that this arrangement was suited to the needs of a small and sparsely settled colony, such as Pasadena was when the company was organized, but that such conditions have long been out-grown and are unfitted for a large and constantly growing community where business must be conducted on business principles, and surplus commodities disposed of. All land within the district included by their corporation is entitled to water, and each stockholder may draw from the common ducted on business principles, and surplus commodities disposed of. All land within the district included by their corporation is entitled to water, and each stockholder may draw from the commonstore water in proportion to the amount of his shares, and is further supplied and assessed therefor on a guess-work system, based upon the number of faucets in use. No meters are in use and there is no means of detecting waste and charging the same to the consumer. The directors have no means of raising revenues for the placing of meters, as all the present dues are absorbed in necessary improvements and service. No salaries, other than to the five persons constituting the working executive force, are paid out, and the directors maintain that persons who give their time to the interests of the company should have proper remuneration therefor, which is impossible under the present lan. The stockholders, upon the other hand, are fearful that the "surplus" would soon become a deficit if the directors were permitted to dispose of it, and with a national object lesson upon that subject before them they hesitate to place in the hands of the board any temptation to speculation. They claim that while it is perfectly true that there is now an abundant surplus, it results largely from the non-use of the water by stockholders who own vacant property, and that when the town is soldidy built up, as it promises to be in the near future, the assessments will be sufficient to meet all legitimate demands upon the revenues of the company and the surplus will disappear, and all the water that can be developed within the district owned by the company will lacking of the necessary majority to scure the adoption of the amendment and its fate is still in doubt. There is a growing sentiment expressed in favor of municipal ownership of water, but under present conditions that is impossible.

The hungry burglar was abroad Monday night, and in the course of his travels happened upon De Busse's restaurant, and breaking the glass of the door, succeeded in making an entry. There was nothing of value available to the thieves except large stock of dainties in the line of cakes, pies and pastry, and of these they helped themselves most generously, dining upon the fat of the land and carrying away something for future use. A policeman heard the noise of their entry and subsequent movements in the restaurant, but thought it was the bakers commencing their usual work and paid no further attention to the subject. The thieves were bold enough to proceed with their operations under the very eyes of the guardians of the Peace, but it is not shought that they were professional burghars, but rather of the genus "tramp."

At the annual meeting of the stockholders of the Pasadena Electric Light Company Monday evening, officers for the ensuing year were elected as follows: President, L. P. Hansen; secreary, J. S. Torrance; treasurer, San Gabriel Valley Bank. In addition to the gentismen above named W. D. Mo-

Gilvray and F. C. Bolt were elected as directors. The Electric Light Company will at once begin the extension of the lines and esveral carloads of poles are expected this week for the construction of ten additional miles of lines. The extension will be mainly north and east, and the city will now be able to receive all the service for which it may wish to contrart.

the service for which it may wish to contract.

There are numerous complaints from various parts of town in regard to petty thetts and daylight turglaries. Many of thise cases are the direct result of carelessness on the part of householders who leave doors and windows unfastened and absent themselves from home without taking proper precentions for the safety of their property in their absence. In one instance, on Monday afternoon, in South Pasadens, a dayligh burglar leisurely proceeded with his occupation in the rear of the house, while the family were busied with callers in the parior.

The Pasadena schoolboys are driving a thriving trade in the collection and sale of trap-door spiders, tarantulas and centipedes for the tourists scientifically inclined. The capture of these California curlosities requires skill and patience. The collection and sale of pumpidin seeds is another source of income to the Pasadena small boy, and this industry, being one which depends entirely upon home consumption, often nets the industrious youth a supply of pocket-money which is the envy of his more indolent maixes.

Recent arrivals at Hotel Green include the following: J. S. Murray, manager of the Calhoun Opera Company; Mrs. M. J. Reese, San Francisco; W. S. McClain, Denver; W. T. Harris, Marlon, Pa.; Dr. A. E. Foote, Philadelphia; H. E. Murphy, Chicago; Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Counselman and family, St. Louis; W. R. The funeral of the late Elmer Newton will be held in the chapel of Reynolds & Van Nuys at 9 o'clock Wednesday morning. The mother and bröther of the decased have arrived from Lincoln, Neb. Andy Parks, who was implicated in the death of the young man, has not yet been captured and a reward for information leading to his arrest was posted today.

The Pasadema Public Library has just prepared for circulation three hundred new books, largely popular fiction and travels, and has made type-written catalogues of the same. The increasing business of the institution is evidenced by the collection last quarter of $112.10 dn fines on overdue books and dues upon cards issued to non-residents.

An important mortgage has just been filed with the County Recorder. This involves the sum of 4750,000, and is executed by the Sunset Telephone Company to the California Title and Insurance Company, the security being the former company's libes and various parcels of real estate located in this county. This same mortgage has been going the rounds of all the southern counties for a year or more past. Proceedings in the Superior Court on Tuesday were as follows: Final discharge was granted to William Forrester, an insolvent debtor; A. M. Ruiz was appointed administrator of the estate of James Dow, deceased; Mrs. Jamesena Stanwood was discharged as guardian of the Stanwood heirs, all of whom have attained their majority; William Litchfield and wife, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Rothwell, Mr. and Mrs. James Nixon, Mr. and Mrs. J. D. McClellan, Boston, Mass.; George T. Barker and wife, and Miss Sisson, Wilmington, are among the latest arrivals at the Arlington. A Jolly party consisting of Mr. and Mrs. Hayes, Mr. and Mrs. Frazier, Mrs. Carlyle and Miss Dunbar, started for the Oial yesterday, the occasion being the celebration of Mr. Hayes's birthday, and the object a good time generally.

Mr. Platt of New York and Mr. Worthington of Cleveland, went fishing on Monday, having first contracted with Mr. Dunn to supply the table of the Arlington for the season. The anglers report a fine sport, although one of the party was seasiok from the time their boat left shore until she returned, and one caught a cold, and there was no perceptible change in the hotel menu.

On Monday night about 6 o'clock, an extraordinary natural phenomenon was witnessed by those who turned their gaze westward. Several detached banks of fog

ATTEMPTED SUICIDE.

A man giving his name as George Lucas, who arrived in this city yesterday afternoon from Sacramento, attempted suicide this afternoon in a room in the Orange Block by cutting his throat. The gash is a fearful one, extending almost from ear to ear, but the jugular vein was not reached. The man says he was tired of living, as the excuse for the act, but flow says he is tired of attempting to take his own life and will not attempt it again.

There are numerous opinions that the attempt to get work out of the tramps, who have been arrested here and sentenced to work on the streets for periods of ten or twenty days, is a failure in Pomona. The tramps utterly refuse to work more than twenty or thirty minutes out of an hour, and many times a day throw down their picks and shovels and seek rest on the green sward for ten minutes at a time. Many people have gone down to see the big, fat, healthy, lazy rascals attempt to work, under the eye of an overseer, on Third street, in the past week, and nearly all have declared the "labot" but little more than a farce. The overseer is powerless to make the tramps work when they will not, and does not know what to do to infuse them with a spirit of industry. It is a problem that has bothered hundreds of wise heads for many years.

SAN BERNARDINO, March 5.—(Special Correspondence.) The Board of Supervisors have for the second time rejected the claims of sundry justices and constables. The January bills of the justices were passed by the Supervisors at the first session in February, but the warrants which were ordered drawn are still in the Auditor's office. Yesterday the bills were presented again, but the board remained obdurate. Suit will now be filed at once and the matter taken into court.

There was a large attendance at the Operahouse last evening to listen to the rendering of "Amorita" by the Calhoun Opera Company. The ladies set the seal of their approval to the idea of attending the theater without the profuse millinery appendage of the day and nearly all appeared hatless, to the undisquised approval of their male escorts.

FAIR'S VALET.

HERBERT CLARKE NOW LIVING ON EASY STREET.

Something Better to Occupy His Time Than Running Around Seeking Proof to Deprive Him of a Sinecure.

The very intertsting proceedings in re-lation to the will of the late Senator Fair have been the means of advartising certain of the products of Southern California. A voung lady of pretty face and austere manners has been brought into the ful glare of publicity, and words put into her mouth which she, by the way, most thoroughly repudiates. And this only that the assertion made that Herbert Clarke, who attended Senator Fair as valet, had been in Los Angeles for some time gathering testimony which at later date would who attended Senator Fair as valet, had been in Los Angeles for some time gathering tesimony which at sater date would be used to prove that the millionaire was not mentally competent while recuperating in Southern California.

This ubiquitous valet has been showing in two places at once, for certain it is that he has been continuously in San Francisco for some time past; indeed it would be safe to say without an intermission sufficient to permit a visit to Los Angeles, since the decease of Senator Fair. Perhaps Herbert Clarke's astral form perambulated Spring street, but the fieshy personage was in San Francisco, and for sufficient reason.

Immediately after the Senator's death an offer was made to Clarke to accompany a gentleman on a tour through Europe which it was supposed would occupy three years. The salary offered was very liberal but Clarke laughed the offer scornfully away. He said he had something better on hand. What was it?

This ex-valet is reputed to be by no means the inconsequential personage his humble position as valet might seem to indicate. He is said to be shrewd, fairly well educated, and better than all, a perfect perambulating encyclopedia of knowledge regarding Senator Fair's doings while he served as his personal attendant. So soon as it was seen that the strange provisions of the Senator's will would most probably lead to family complications and a legal contest in the courts, Herbert Clarke was taken in charge by the executors and trustees and his life has been one of peace and happiness since. He is said to be doing clerical work in connection with the affairs of the estate, for the trustees, but it is reasonably certain that the hardest work he is called upon to perform is that of keeping watch and guard over his tongue. The tongue is generally reputed to be an unruly member, and Herbert Clarke has such a fund of information that would be of immense interest to Charile Fair that it will take him all his time to see that it does not wag to the disconfiture of his present generous em

Passengers on a Downey-avenue car saw a brave act yesterday noon while coming over the viaduct. While the car was proceeding at its usual speed a little boy not more than 5 years old ran in front of it and stood, badly frightened, directly on the track. Conductor Salyer saw the little fellow before there was time to stop the car, and it was but the work of a moment for him to lean over the front of the dummy and pick up the lad out of harm's way. Those who saw the act applauded it as an excellent exhibition of presence of mind.
